WELCOME TO DENMARK

We are pleased that you have chosen to settle in Denmark. Denmark has a lot to offer – a good work-life balance, excellent working conditions based on teamwork and consensus in a flat management structure and free welfare. People living in Denmark are said to be among the happiest people in the world.

Moving to a new country is automatically associated with surprises – both good and bad. Many questions arise – do I need a work permit, how does my partner find a job, what about social security, registration, bank account, tax + many more questions. The purpose of this welcome brochure is to answer some of these questions and to help you get started on your new life in Denmark. If you have questions – do not hesitate to contact us. We are here to help you.

Once again, Welcome – we hope you will enjoy living in Denmark.

DENMARK

COUNTRY AND PEOPLE

Denmark is a country with many islands. The Kingdom of Denmark encompasses the peninsula of Jutland and more than 400 islands. No place in this country is more than 50 kilometres from the sea coast. These geographic realities present a real challenge, especially for engineers. Bridges are part of the Kingdom's image, as are contemporary design, kilometres of sandy beaches and successful economic policies. People in Denmark enjoy a high standard of living. Probably not least for this reason, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) studies have concluded that Danes are very contented people.

The Danish labour market serves as a role model for many countries. Liberal employment regulations, a broad net of social security and a pro-active labour market policy are all combined under the watchword of "flexicurity". As a result, the labour market in Denmark is described as deregulated. The unemployed receive a relatively high level of unemployment benefits, as well as comprehensive retraining for new jobs. The employment rate in Denmark is one of the highest in the European Union (EU).

Informal social interaction and democracy

Most Danes place a high value on equal rights and democracy. Compared with other countries, social interaction and the tone of voice are informal. Friends, family and also colleagues are addressed informally on a first-name basis. It is also common to address superiors by their first names. The informal tone is also valid in educational settings, where pupils address their teachers on a first-name basis.

Two basic elements of education in Denmark are discussion and debate, whether in public, in family relations or at work. Danish companies place high demands on their employees, as they expect their staff to develop, propose and implement ideas themselves. There is no need to fear making mistakes here, because companies value their employees highly. They place high priority on skills development, and most companies in Denmark offer continued training for their employees. Teamwork is also appreciated highly in Denmark. Studies repeatedly show that teamwork leads to better use of the knowledge pool and promotes creativity. It is probably for all these reasons that so many Danes are efficient at work. They are motivated and committed employees.

Getting to know people and making friends

Most Danes have a high level of education, and they take interest in their social circles and local communities as well as happenings around the country. Danes are said to be informal, unassuming, humorous, cheerful and jovial folks always likely to say, "Things will work out", but also to be a short-sighted, impulsive, individualistic, undisciplined, anarchic people with a lack of earnest and little respect for tradition. Danes are also perceived to be relaxed, happy and easy going. All the same, many foreigners find it difficult at first to become acquainted and make friends with Danes outside the work place.

The Danish people spend a large part of their free time with their families – the spouse, children and other close family members. They generally spend birthdays, Christmas, public holidays and vacations in close family company.

The social behaviour of Danes can best be described by the term "bonding". One distinguishes in general between those who build bridges to other people and those, who work to bond with others and intensify existing bonds – family ties, friendship bonds, etc. Bridge builders establish contact quickly, but "bonders" like the Danes are slow to do so.

Being a small population, the Danes are used to having some kind of shared history with almost everyone in the country. When they meet someone for the first time, they will immediately try to find out what common acquaintances they may have.

Homogeneous society – the clan-based society

In many respects, the Danes are a very homogeneous society: incomes are about the same (net), they dress similarly, they all have more or less the same values, they travel to the same holiday destinations, celebrate the same holidays and above all: almost all of them have the same nationality. Foreigners are a relatively new phenomenon in Denmark; compared with other countries, there are relatively few non-natives in Denmark. Anyone whose speech, traditions, attitudes or values are unlike those of the homogeneous "clan-based society" will initially be perceived by Danes as "different". Many Danes feel that to be "properly" Danish, a person must above all master the Danish language.

FACTS

ABOUT DENMARK

Monarchy – Queen Margrethe II

- Representative democracy
- 5,8 million inhabitants
- 43,000 square kilometres – more than 400 islands, 7,300 kilometres (km) coastline
- Official language – Danish
- Currency: Danish Krone (DKK) 1 Krone = 100 øre 1 € = 7.45 DKK
- 98 municipalities and 5 regions
- 78% of all 16 to 64 years old Danes have a job
- 75% of all women and 81% of all men work
- 72% of all employees are member of a union or an unemployment insurance fund
- 83% of all children continue education after elementary school
- More women than men have an academic education
- 90% of all Danish citizens are member of at least one association

TIPS

ABOUT THE DANES

All of this makes it a challenge to get to know Danes and to find Danish friends. Here are a few tips:

- Be active and invite people over, rather than waiting for an invitation from the Danish side. Danes want to get to know people, but they find it difficult to take the first step.
- Join an association – Denmark is a country full of associations and clubs. On average, each Dane is a member of no less than five associations.
- Learn Danish. Even though you might find it difficult to begin with, it really pays off.
- Meet other people who are in the same situation as you. A number of international clubs arrange social events where international families can meet and learn more about Denmark and Danish culture.

- Be open minded. What is normal and accepted in your home country may not apply to Denmark. Even if you find the Danish traditions and ways of behaviour strange do not be prejudiced. Remember there are more similarities than differences between the culture you are used to from your home country and the culture and tradition you meet in Denmark.

Where do Danes “hang out” after work?

- At evening classes, in language classes, cooking courses or creative activities

- At Open University events (Danish: Folkeuniversitet) where they participate in lectures and similar
- At sports clubs, associations, literary circles, senior citizens’ clubs, stamp collecting associations, volunteer work etc.
- At the fitness center
- At the theatre
- At the swimming baths, indoor swimming pools, beaches

Your local library, town hall/Borger-service and municipal website are good places to find out what associations, clubs and events there are in your vicinity – otherwise ask your Danish colleagues and friends – you will find, that they are very helpful.

FIRST STEPS IN DENMARK

CHECKLIST – MOVING TO DENMARK

What to remember in the first 30 days after your arrival in Denmark?

When newly arrived in Denmark there are a lot of important issues to be aware of as a foreign citizen.

In the following checklist we have listed matters of particular importance. The different subjects are discussed in more detail in the following chapters. The checklist mainly refers to people who have signed an employment contract with a Danish company and who will have residency in Denmark.

Please find a detailed checklist with information about how to register and what to bring when you register at the International Citizen Service (ICS) in Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense and Aalborg here.

In general it is advisable to bring:

- Passport/national identification (ID) card with photo
- Passport photo
- Residence and work permit from the Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration (SIRI) (non-EU/EEA (European Economic Area) citizens only)
- Original marriage certificate if you are married. Please remember to bring the marriage certificate, even if your partner is not accompanying you. If applicable: divorce certificate/ death certificate (widow(er)). Please note that only certificates in English/German/Scandinavian languages are accepted.

- Original birth certificate(s) for accompanying children under 18 years. Please note that only certificates in English/ German/Scandinavian languages are accepted.
- Proof of address in Denmark (lease/rental contract)
- The blue European health card (EU/EEA nationals only)
- Medical card (optional)
- Driving license
- Educational certificates
- Vehicle papers (if you bring vehicles)

Residence document/residence and work permit in Denmark

- Nordic citizens: You are free to reside and work in Denmark without a residence document/permit
- EU/EEA/Swiss Citizens: Apply for residence document at International Citizen Service in Aalborg, Aarhus, Odense or Copenhagen or at the Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration
- Non-EU Citizens: Apply for a residence and work permit prior to start working in Denmark at www.newtodenmark.dk. The application can be submitted online at a Danish representation (embassy or consulate) in your home country or at the Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration in Denmark.

For further information, go to “Register as a citizen in Denmark”

Social security and personal registration number “CPR number”

If you are planning to stay in Denmark for more than 3 months, you can register for a Personal Registration Number (CPR number) and a health card. You can apply for a CPR number and a health card at the International Citizen Service in Aalborg, Aarhus, Odense or Copenhagen or at the local municipal Citizen Service Centre (Danish: Borgerservice). At the registration you will choose a doctor. Your social security card (Danish: sundhedskort) which includes your CPR number will be sent to you by post – normally within 2 weeks.

EU/EEA/Swiss citizens who need medical treatment during travels in the EU, Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein (EEA), or Switzerland must apply for the blue European Health Insurance Card.

For further information, go to “Register as a citizen in Denmark”

Tax registration

When you work in Denmark you must also have a tax card. This is issued to you at either the International Citizen Service or online via form 04.063. For further information, go to “Tax”

Bank

Open a bank account – preferably an “Easy Account” (Danish: Nemkonto). This is generally a current account, into which payments from you employer and from the state are made (e.g. tax refunds). For further information, go to “Bank”

Unemployment insurance

Unlike many other countries, unemployment insurance in Denmark is voluntary and you are not as a standard covered through your employer. Thus, you are not automatically insured against unemployment. For further information, go to "Unemployment insurance"

Insurance

Check your insurances from your home country. Some of the most important insurances in Denmark are:

- Personal liability insurance (Danish: Ansvarsforsikring)
- Household insurance (Danish: Indboforsikring)
- Accident insurance (Danish: Ulykkesforsikring)
- Unemployment insurance (Danish: Arbejdsløshedsforsikring). For further information, go to "Unemployment insurance"
- Life insurance (Danish: Livsforsikring)
- Legal protection insurance (Danish: Retshjælpsforsikring)
- Car insurance (Danish: Bilforsikring) – if you have a car
- Dog insurance (Danish: Hundeforsikring) – if you have a dog

For further information, go to "Private insurance"

Danish language

All municipalities in Denmark offer Danish lessons when you have a CPR number. For further information, go to "Learning the Danish language"

Vehicle

If you bring your vehicle with you from your home country, the vehicle may have to be re-registered with Danish number plates or you must have obtained exemption. For further information, go to "Bringing your private vehicle to Denmark"

Driver's licence

Driver's licences issued within the EU are valid in Denmark. Driver's licences issued in a non-EU country may be valid in Denmark. For further information, go to "Driving licence"

Media licence

You are legally obligated to register with "media licence" if you have a television, computer, smart phone or other devices with internet access if you are more than 18 years old. You must register within 14 days of procurement. For further information, go to "Radio and television fees"

e-Boks & NemID

NemID is a secure log on to internet services. e-Boks is your online mailbox for mail from public authorities (tax, pension etc.). Apply for your NemID at your municipal Citizen Service Center. For further information, go to "NemID, e-Boks/Digital Post"

Further information and advice:

In the International Citizen Service in Aalborg, Aarhus, Odense and Copenhagen you will receive free of charge advice concerning residence permit, social security, tax, recognition of qualification, insurance and many other questions that may arise when moving to Denmark. For further information, go to "Register as a citizen in Denmark – International Citizen Service"

SHORT TERM STAYS – IF YOU WORK IN DENMARK FOR LESS THAN 3 MONTHS

If you work in Denmark for less than 3 months, you should consider your:

- Step 1. Residence document/residence and work permit
- Step 2. Tax
- Step 3. Social security (CPR number)

Nordic Citizens

Step 1 Residence document/residence and work permit

As a Nordic citizen from Finland, Iceland, Norway or Sweden you may freely enter Denmark to reside and work. You do not need to apply for a residence document/permit.

Step 2 Tax

When you work in Denmark, you must pay income taxes in Denmark – you will need a tax card. You can apply for the tax card and a personal tax number by completing the online form 04.063 (www.skat.dk). If you have completed the form in full and attached the documents required (signed work contract, marriage certificate (if you are married) and passport/national ID card), you will receive a preliminary income assessment (Danish: forskudsopgørelse). At the top of your preliminary income assessment, you will see your personal tax number. Your personal tax number works like a Danish personal identification number (CPR number). Your employer will withhold your tax from your salary and pay it directly to the tax authorities.

If you do not apply for a tax card, your employer will deduct 55% tax from your salary.

Step 3 Social security (CPR)

If you work in Denmark for minimum 9 hours per week and have your permanent address in another EU/EEA country, you are entitled to be enrolled in the Danish health insurance system. Please find further information and an online application form at www.lifeindenmark.dk > Cross-border > Special health insurance card. You can – however – also choose to stay in the social security system in your country of origin if you stay in Denmark for less than 6 months.

Please find a detailed checklist about the 3 steps for registration and what to bring when you register at the International citizen Service in Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense and Aalborg.

EU/EEA/Swiss Citizens

Step 1 Residence document/residence and work permit

If you are a citizen from an EU/EEA country or Switzerland you may freely enter Denmark to reside and work. If you work in Denmark for less than 3 months, you do not need to have a residence document/permit.

Step 2 Tax

When you work in Denmark, you must pay income taxes in Denmark – you will need a tax card. You can apply for the tax card and a personal tax number by completing the online form 04.063 (www.skat.dk > English > Short guide – Working in Denmark > Apply for a personal tax number and tax card). If you have completed the form in full and attached the documents required (signed work contract, marriage certificate (if you are married) and passport/national ID card), you will receive a preliminary income assessment (Danish: forskudsopgørelse). At the top of your preliminary income assessment, you will see your personal tax number. Your personal tax number works like a Danish personal identification number (CPR number).

Your employer will withhold your tax from your salary and pay it directly to the tax authorities.

If you do not apply for a tax card, your employer will deduct 55% tax from your salary

Step 3 Social security (CPR)

If you work in Denmark for minimum 9 hours per week and have your permanent address in another EU/EEA country, you are entitled to be enrolled in the Danish health insurance system. Please find further information and an online application form at www.lifeindenmark.dk > Cross-border > Special health insurance card. You can – however – also choose to stay in the social security system in your country of origin if you stay in Denmark for less than 6 months.

Please find a detailed checklist about the 3 steps for registration and what to bring when you register at the International citizen Service in Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense and Aalborg.

Please find further information at www.newtodenmark.dk

Non-EU citizens

Step 1 Residence document/ residence and work permit

As a Non-EU citizen you need a residence and work permit before you start working. You must submit your application for residence and work permit to the Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration (SIRI) in Denmark or to a Danish representation (embassy or consulate) in your home country.

As a general rule a residence and work permit will be issued on the basis of professional or labour market considerations. However, a number of schemes e.g. the Working Holiday Programme have been designed in order to make it easier for young short term employees from some countries to get a residence and work permit in Denmark. The application forms and guidelines can be found on www.newtodenmark.dk.

Step 2 Tax

When you work in Denmark, you must pay income taxes in Denmark – you will need a tax card. You can apply for the tax card and a personal tax number by completing the online form 04.063 (www.skat.dk). If you have completed the form in full and attached the documents required (signed work contract, marriage certificate (if you are married) and passport/national ID card), you will receive a preliminary income assessment (Danish: forskudsopgørelse). At the top of your preliminary income assessment, you will see your personal tax number. Your personal tax number works like a Danish personal identification number (CPR number). Your employer will withhold your tax from your salary and pay it directly to the tax authorities.

If you do not apply for a tax card, your employer will deduct 55% tax from your salary

Step 3 Social security (CPR)

As your stay in Denmark does not exceed 3 months, you cannot register for a Danish CPR number and thus, you will not be covered by Danish health insurance. Please make sure you are covered either with an insurance from your home country or sign up for a private insurance in Denmark.

Please find a detailed checklist about the 3 steps for registration and what to bring when you register at the International citizen Service in Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense and Aalborg.

IF YOU WORK IN DENMARK FOR MORE THAN 3 MONTHS

If you are planning to work/stay in Denmark for more than 3 months you should consider your:

Step 1. Residence document/residence and work permit

Step 2. Social security (CPR number)

Step 3. Tax

Nordic Citizens

Step 1 Residence document/residence and work permit

If you are a citizen from Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden you may enter Denmark without any restriction to reside, study or work. You do not need a residence document/permit.

Step 2 Social security/CPR

If you are planning to stay in Denmark for more than 3 months, you can register for Danish social security and a CPR number. If you are planning to stay in Denmark for more than 6 months, you must register for the CPR number. You can apply for the CPR number by using either the International Citizen Service or the municipal Citizen Service Center (Danish: Borger-service) where you live.

Step 3 Tax

When you work in Denmark, you must pay income taxes in Denmark – you will need a tax card. You can apply for the tax card and a personal tax number by completing the online form 04.063 (www.skat.dk > English > Short guide – Working in Denmark > Apply for a personal tax number and tax card). If you have completed the form in full and attached the documents required (signed work contract, marriage certificate (if you are married) and passport/national ID card), you will receive a preliminary income assessment (Danish: forskudsopgørelse). At the top of your preliminary income assessment, you will see your personal tax number. Your personal tax number works like a Danish personal identification number (CPR number).

Your employer will withhold your tax from your salary and pay it directly to the tax authorities.

If you do not apply for a tax card, your employer will deduct 55% tax from your salary

Please find a detailed checklist about the 3 steps for registration and what to bring when you register at the International citizen Service in Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense and Aalborg.

EU/EEA/Swiss Citizens

Step 1 Residence document/ residence and work permit

If you are a citizen from an EU/EEA country or Switzerland you can take up residence in Denmark. You may enter Denmark and start to work/study in Denmark during the application period. It is recommended that you apply for the EU residence document as soon as you come to Denmark. You can apply for a residence document if you:

- Have found a job in Denmark or
- Start studying in Denmark or
- Have sufficient funds to support yourself financially or supported by another person
- Is a self-employed person or
- Is a family member to one of the above mentioned groups

The application forms and guidelines can be found on www.newtodenmark.dk > I want to apply > Residence as an EU/EEA citizen

Please note, that you must have completed step 1 before you can register for the CPR number (Step 2)

Step 2 Social security (CPR number)

After you have obtained an EU residence document you must register your address with the Danish Personal Register. If you are planning to stay in Denmark for more than 3 months, you can register for Danish social security and a CPR number. If you are planning to stay in Denmark for more than 6 months, you must register for the CPR number. You can apply for the CPR number by using either the International Citizen Service or the municipal Citizen Service Center (Danish: Borger-service) where you live.

Step 3 Tax

When you work in Denmark, you must pay income taxes in Denmark – you will need a tax card. You can apply for the tax card and a personal tax number by completing the online form 04.063 (www.skat.dk > English > Short guide – Working in Denmark > Apply for a personal tax number and tax card). If you have completed the form in full and attached the documents required (signed work contract, marriage certificate (if you are married) and passport/national ID card), you will receive a preliminary income assessment (Danish: forskudsopgørelse). At the top of your preliminary income assessment, you will see your personal tax number. Your personal tax number works like a Danish personal identification number (CPR number).

Your employer will withhold your tax from your salary and pay it directly to the tax authorities.

If you do not apply for a tax card, your employer will deduct 55% tax from your salary

Please find a detailed checklist about the 3 steps for registration and what to bring when you register at the International citizen Service in Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense and Aalborg.

Non-EU Citizens

Step 1 Residence document/ residence and work permit

If you are a citizen from a country outside the EU/EEA, it is essential that you have been granted a residence and work permit before you start working. Applications for residence and work permits must typically be submitted to a Danish representative office, e.g. an embassy or consulate general in the applicant's home country. The application forms and guidelines can be found on www.newtodenmark.dk.

Please note, that you must complete Step 1 before you can apply for the CPR number.

Step 2 Social security (CPR number)

After you have obtained your residence and work permit, you must register your address and apply for a CPR number. You can apply for the CPR number by using either the International Citizen Service or the municipal Citizen Service Center (Danish: Borger-service) where you live.

Step 3 Tax

When you work in Denmark, you must pay income taxes in Denmark – you will need a tax card. You can apply for the tax card and a personal tax number by completing the online form 04.063 (www.skat.dk > English > Short guide – Working in Denmark > Apply for a personal tax number and tax card). If you have completed the form in full and attached the documents required (signed work contract, marriage certificate (if you are married) and passport/national ID card), you will receive a preliminary income assessment (Danish: forskudsopgørelse). At the top of your preliminary income assesment, you will see your personal tax number. Your personal tax number works like a Danish personal identification number (CPR number). Your employer will withhold your tax from your salary and pay it directly to the tax authorities.

If you do not apply for a tax card, your employer will deduct 55% tax from your salary.

Please find a detailed checklist about the 3 steps for registration and what to bring when you register at the International Citizen Service in Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense and Aalborg.

Family members (spouse/registered or cohabiting partner and children under the age of 21 years) to workers, students, self employed persons (principal person) in Denmark can apply for a residence document/permit and CPR number. The application process and which forms to use, depends on the nationality of both the principal person and the family member(s).

You can find further information about residence document/permit on www.newtodenmark.dk.

On www.lifeindenmark.dk/ics you can find detailed information about the rules and regulations, application forms and necessary documentation.

Cross-border Workers

Workers who maintain their residence in another country than Denmark and travel to Denmark on a regular basis to work are considered cross-border workers.

As a cross-border worker, please consider::

1. Residence and work document/ permit
2. Tax
3. Social security (CPR number)

Step 1 Residence and work document/permit:

Cross-border workers with Nordic, EU/ EEA or Swiss citizenship do not need a residence and work document/permit to Denmark.

Non-EU/EEA/Swiss citizens need a work permit before they can start working. You can submit your application for work permit to the Danish representation (embassy or consulate) in your home country or to the immigration service in Denmark prior to your arrival in Denmark. The application forms and guidelines can be found on www.newtodenmark.dk

Step 2 Tax:

If you earn more than 75% of your annual income in Denmark, you can ask to be taxed according to the cross-border worker rules. As a cross-border worker, you are, as a general rule, entitled to the same tax allowances and deductions as people living in Denmark.

You will need a tax card. You can apply for the tax card and a personal tax number by completing form 04.063 (www.skat.dk > English > Short guide – Working in Denmark > Apply for a personal tax number and tax card). If you have completed the form in full and attached the documents required (signed work contract, marriage certificate (if you are married), passport/national ID card and your residence and work permit (Non-EU citizens only), you will receive a preliminary income assessment (Danish: forskudsopgørelse). At the top of your preliminary income assessment, you will see your personal tax number. Your personal tax number works like a Danish personal identification number (CPR number). Your employer will withhold your tax from your salary and pay it directly to the tax authorities.

If you do not apply for a tax card, your employer will deduct 55% tax from your salary.

Step 3 Social security (CPR number)

As a cross-border worker you have a right to health insurance services in both your country of residence and in Denmark.

All of your family members, who do not have health insurance of their own, are also insured via the Danish national health insurance scheme. However, family members, who live in your home country may only receive medical treatment in their country of residence and in accordance with that country's laws.

You can apply to be enrolled in the Danish health insurance system via www.lifeindenmark.dk > Cross-border commuters > Special health insurance card. If you are entitled to be enrolled, you will receive the special health insurance card within 2-3 weeks by post to your address in your home country. The special health insurance card is issued by Udbetaling Danmark. If you have any questions about the special health insurance card, please contact Udbetaling Danmark, telephone +45 70 12 80 81.

Step 4 Bank, insurance etc.

You need to open a bank account in order for your employer to pay your salary. As soon as you have your personal tax number you must open a bank account. It is an advantage to have an Easy Account (Danish: Nemkonto). This is generally a current account, into which payments from your employer are made. The Nemkonto is also used by the Danish state for e.g. tax refunds.

Contact the bank you prefer concerning opening a bank account.

Insurance

When you work for a Danish employer you are covered by the occupational accident insurance held by your employer, but only in the hours you are working. In your spare time you will be covered by your insurances from your home country.

Driver's license

As a cross-border worker you can use your driving license from your home country.

Vehicles

As a cross-border worker you are allowed to use your foreign registered vehicle to and from work in Denmark. If you return to your home country on a daily basis you do not have to do anything, but it is generally advisable always to keep a copy of your employment contract and your special Danish health card in your vehicle.

If you stay in Denmark less than 185 days within a 12-month period, you may drive a vehicle with foreign number plates without having to pay Danish registration tax.

Please note that if you stay in Denmark for more than 185 days within one year, you are considered to reside in Denmark and you must register your vehicle in Denmark.

If you are unsure of the duration of your stay in Denmark or your country of residence, you can apply for permission to drive a vehicle with foreign number plates in Denmark. Please note that you will be charged a fee of DKK 400 to process your application.

Submit the following information to the Danish Motor Vehicle Agency (Motortyrelsen):

- Form 21.059
- A copy of the vehicle registration certificate
- An employment or student contract to document the duration of your stay in Denmark
- A receipt for having paid the processing fee of DKK 400

Apply as soon as you start working in Denmark. Until you get your permission, you must bring the application whenever you drive in Denmark. Remember always to keep the permission in your car.

On www.oresunddirekt.com (in Danish, English and Swedish language) you can find more information concerning cross-border workers between Denmark and Sweden.

On www.eures-kompas.eu and www.pendlerinfo.org (in Danish and German language) you can find more information concerning cross-border workers between Denmark and Germany

Posted workers

If you are posted to work in Denmark, and your employer is a foreign company temporarily providing a service in Denmark, you are covered by the Danish Act on Posting of Workers. For further information, go to www.workplacedenmark.dk

If you are posted to work in Denmark you are assured some minimum rights concerning your working conditions. You have the same right to a safe and healthy working environment as Danish citizens. Other areas covered by posted worker's rights are: discrimination at the workplace, equal rights and equal pay for men and women and some of the regulation on working hours. As a posted worker in Denmark, you are covered by the holiday rules that apply in your home country. The length of the holiday and your holiday pay are, however, determined by the Danish Holiday Act if the Danish provisions are more favourable.

What is a posted worker? And what is posting?

A worker posted to Denmark is an employee who is usually employed in another country and is sent to Denmark by their employer to work for a limited period of time.

An enterprise is considered to have posted workers to Denmark in the following situations:

1. The enterprise has sent an employee to Denmark to provide a service to an enterprise or private person in Denmark.
2. The enterprise, a temporary work agency, for example, has hired out an employee to a user enterprise in Denmark.
3. The enterprise has sent an employee to an enterprise in Denmark within the same group or which is otherwise affiliated to the posting enterprise.

One of the conditions that must be fulfilled in order for a situation to be characterised as posting is that an employment relationship exists between the worker and the posting enterprise or temporary work agency. Another condition is that the enterprise making the posting has to be genuinely established in the country of origin, which means that the enterprise must have substantial activity in that country.

Residence and work permit?

Before you can start working in Denmark as a posted employee you need to find out if you require a residence and work permit. This depends on where you come from.

If you are a citizen of a Nordic country you can freely live and work in Denmark.

If you are a citizen from an EU/EEA country or Switzerland, you can start to work in Denmark and then apply for a registration document at the Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration (SIRI).

If you are a citizen of a country outside EU/EEA/Switzerland, and you are posted by an enterprise from a EU country, you have to seek further advice on www.newtodenmark.dk. If you are a non-EU/EEA/Swiss citizen, and you are not covered by the regulations on posting of workers, you always have to apply for a residence and work permit before starting working in Denmark. The application forms and guidelines can be found on www.newtodenmark.dk

Social security (CPR number)

If you plan to work and live in Denmark for more than 3 months, you need to apply for a CPR number at the Danish National Register (Folkeregisteret). If you stay in Denmark for more than 6 months, you are considered to be fully tax liable to Denmark from the first day of your stay. You can apply for the CPR number by using either the International Citizen Service or the municipal Citizen Service Center (Danish: Borgerservice) where you live.

Tax

If you are posted to Denmark and your employer has a permanent establishment in Denmark, you have to apply for a personal tax number and a Danish tax card, no matter how long you intend to stay in Denmark. The same rule applies if you establish a business in Denmark. For further information, go to www.skat.dk > English > Short guide – Working in Denmark.

Further information

Please find further information about working conditions, health and safety, tax and regulations on posting for posted workers at www.workplacedenmark.dk

JOBSEEKERS

WHAT TO BRING WHEN YOU REGISTER AT THE INTERNATIONAL CITIZEN SERVICE

Jobseekers from EU/EEA countries and Switzerland

Legal stay in Denmark without registration

If you are a citizen from an EU/EEA country or Switzerland you can stay legally in Denmark for up to 6 months without registration while searching for a job. During the 6 months you will not get a personal registration number (CPR number). If you need medical assistance during the 6 months, you need your blue European health card from your home country. Please note, that you have no rights for financial support from Denmark during your stay. After the 6 months period, you can stay in Denmark as a job seeker, as long as you can prove that you are still looking for work, and that you have a genuine chance of being hired.

Register for EU residence with sufficient funds

If you are a citizen from an EU/EEA country and are able to support yourself financially (or know someone who is able and willing to support you), you can apply for a residence document to Denmark based on sufficient funds and hereafter a CPR number. You can register at the International Citizen Service or at the Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration (SIRI). You can find further information and the application form on www.newtodenmark.dk > You want to apply > Residence as an EU/EEA citizen > EU residence as a person with sufficient funds for self support

Here you can also find detailed information about the rules and regulations, application form and a list of necessary documentation.

Jobseekers from EU/EEA countries and Switzerland with unemployment benefits from another EU/EEA country or Switzerland.

Jobseekers with unemployment benefits from another EU/EEA country or Switzerland, please find information on regulations and how to register with your PD U2 at www.lifeindenmark.dk.

INTERNATIONAL CITIZEN SERVICE (ICS)

International Citizen Service is a nationwide service for foreign employees and Danish companies. International Citizen Service is a cooperation between different authorities in Denmark and provide newly arrived workers and students with coordinated and seamless authority registration.

International Citizen Service is a cooperation between:

- The Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration (SIRI) (residence document for EU/EEA/Swiss citizens and residence and work permit for non-EU/EEA/Swiss citizens)
- The local municipal administration (CPR number and health card)
- The Danish Tax Agency (tax card – online service)

In most cases the foreign employee only needs to visit International Citizen Service once in order to get the paperwork done. Many services are also digital and International Citizen Service can guide the foreign employee by phone or email.

You can find the International Citizen Service in Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense and Aalborg. Please note that the procedures varies and that you need to check if you need to book an appointment online prior to your visit.

Please find opening hours and addresses at lifeindenmark.dk. You can also find detailed checklists about how to register and what to bring when you register at the International Citizen Service.

WORKING IN DENMARK

WORKING CONDITIONS IN DENMARK

Danes love their job

Danes have the highest job satisfaction rating in Europe. Many highlight the 37 hours work week, 5+1 weeks paid vacation combined with flexible working hours. Others emphasise a good work-life balance at many work places – which means you can have both a professional career and a good family life. Some employees also get a full salary during illness and full payment for the first 2 days, if you need to stay at home with your ill child.

Working hours

The standard working week in Denmark is 37 hours split over 5 days. Lunch breaks are typically 30 minutes long. Lunch breaks are paid as regular working hours in the public sector, whereas most private employees pay for lunch breaks themselves. However, this varies from workplace to workplace.

Working hours are not regulated by law in the private sector, but rather, are determined by collective agreement or individual contracts.

Employment contract

You have a legal right to get an employment contract from your Danish employer. As a foreign employee you are covered by the same rules and regulations as Danish employees. The law stipulates that you must have an employment contract which specifies the most important terms and conditions of your employment.

The employment contract must at least contain information on the following:

1. Employer's and employee's name and address.
2. The location of the workplace or, if there is no fixed workplace, where the work is primarily performed/ information that the employee is to work in various locations, and the employer's main office or address.
3. Job description or employee's job title, rank or job category.
4. Employment commencement date.
5. Expected duration of employment, if not permanent employment.
6. The employee's rights regarding holidays, including whether salary will be paid while the employee is on holiday.
7. Employee's and employer's terms of notice.
8. The applicable or agreed salary to which the employee is entitled upon commencement of employment and allowances or other forms of remuneration that are not included herein, e.g. pension contributions, lodging and meals. The frequency of salary payments must also be included in the contract.
9. The standard daily or weekly working hours.
10. Information on which collective agreements or other agreements regulate the employment and working conditions. If the collective agreements or agreements in question were entered into by parties outside of the company, these parties must be identified in the contract.

Collective agreements

Conditions of employment and wages are normally regulated through collective agreements that are negotiated by trade unions and employers' organizations. There is no minimum salary determined by law in Denmark.

Certain areas of work conditions are however regulated by law – holidays, equal opportunities and health and safety.

Many employees are member of a trade union and many employers are part of an employer confederation. This ensures that collective bargaining agreements cover a large percentage of employees and are widely respected. In addition to centralized agreements, the collective bargaining system can also be used at the workplace level.

Health and safety

All employees working in Denmark must comply with the Danish Working Environment Act. The Act aims at preventing accidents and illnesses at the workplace. It is the responsibility of the employer to ensure that working conditions are safe and sound. Further the employer has a variety of responsibilities e.g. to ensure that the employees receive work instructions. You as employee must participate in the co-operation on safety and health. Furthermore, you have an obligation to use the protective equipment provided by the employer. More information about health and safety on www.arbejdstilsynet.dk > click on the English, German, Polish or Lithuanian flag.

Insurance

Employers have a legal obligation to obtain an employer's occupational accident insurance, which protects you in case of accidents during your work hours.

Consider a private household insurance policy if you want liability and accident insurance during your spare time.

Holiday allowance

All full time employees receive at least five weeks of paid holiday every year

As an employee in Denmark, you are entitled to five weeks paid holiday per year. In most collective agreements you have additionally 5 days of holiday per year – also known as the 6th holiday week. Whether you have this right or not – please ask your employer or your union.

Your employer calculates your holiday allowance but in general, you accrue 12.5% of your salary in holiday allowance. This complies with 2.08 days of holiday for every month you are employed.

You accrue holiday allowance from September to August the following year (12 months). You can use the holiday allowance from September to December the following year (16 months). The Holiday Act allows you to take your holiday as soon as the month after you have earned it e.g. the holiday allowance you accrue in September you can use in October.

To find out more about how much holiday allowance you have earned, what to do if you are prevented from taking a holiday, how to apply for holiday allowance etc. please visit lifeindenmark.dk.

Click here for further information about holiday allowance.

Tax

Everyone working in Denmark pays income tax and needs a tax card. The tax card is issued by the Danish tax authority (based on the information you give on form 04.063 (www.skat.dk) > English > Short guide: Working in Denmark – choose language). You will be asked to upload a copy of your employment contract, your passport and your marriage certificate (if you are married).

If you do not apply for a tax card, your employer will deduct 55% tax from your salary

The tax card is electronic and your employer has access to your tax information. You will receive a copy of your tax card by post approximately 3 weeks after you have applied. The employer sends the sum of your withholding tax to the tax authority as a preliminary tax payment. You can see how much tax you have paid during the year on your payslips.

In Denmark the tax system is progressive which means that the more you earn the higher percentage you pay in direct tax.

The taxes consist of:

1. Bottom-bracket tax (Danish: Bundskat)
2. Top bracket tax (Danish: Topskat)
3. Health contribution (Danish: Sundhedsbidrag)
4. Labour market contribution, AM-bidrag (Danish: Arbejdsmarkedsbidrag)
5. Municipality tax (Danish: Kommuneskat)
6. Church tax (Danish: Kirkeskat) (voluntary)
7. Indirect tax – VAT (Value added-tax – Danish: Moms)

Denmark is a classic welfare state. Helping fellow citizens when they get ill, become old or lose their jobs is considered a joint responsibility. The same goes for high quality childcare and free schooling for everyone.

This explains why Danish taxes are so high. In 2018, taxation came to 48.2 percent of the Gross Domestic Product, making the Danes the highest taxed population in Europe, a record most people would not boast about. When it comes to income tax, the average citizen pays almost half of their salary in tax. In addition, most goods include 25 percent VAT ('Moms' in Danish). Cars, petrol, alcohol and other goods are also taxed in order to limit consumption.

To compensate for high taxes, Danish salary levels are among the highest in the world, and many welfare services that strain household budgets in other countries are either free or state-subsidized in Denmark. Medical help, hospital treatment, schooling and elderly care are all free – and day care for children is far cheaper than in most other countries. This means that the purchasing power in the Danish capital of Copenhagen is the same as in other European cities.

This information gives you an overview of some of the most important aspects of Danish tax. You can find further information in several languages on www.skat.dk > English > Short guide – Working in Denmark.

Telephone numbers and opening hours can be found in the chapter "Important telephone numbers and addresses". Please be aware that the following information only is valid for the tax year 2020 and that change in tax rates may apply.

Tax year

The tax year in Denmark coincides with the calendar year. The actual amount of tax is calculated after the end of the year, as a result of which you will have to make an additional payment or you will receive a refund. The Danish tax system consists of 3 steps:

1. Preliminary income assessment
2. Tax assessment notice
3. Final tax notice

1. Preliminary income assessment (Danish: forskudsopgørelse)

When you start working in Denmark you must apply for a tax card. The tax authorities generate a preliminary tax card for the coming year. The tax card is based on your expected income and deductions from form 04.063 (www.skat.dk > English > Short guide: Working in Denmark – choose language). Please make sure to state your annual income as accurately as possible. Should your income change significantly in the course of the year, you can change your tax information at any time. Since recently, the tax card is no longer sent out in paper form, but is kept on file in your electronic tax file at SKAT (www.skat.dk). You can view this on your computer using your NemID. Please check the information on the tax card. If everything is correct, you do not need to do anything. Your employer will receive the tax card directly from the tax authority.

If you do not have a tax card when you are paid for the first time, your employer has to deduct 55% of your pay for taxes! So it is advisable to acquire your tax card early on.

2. Submitting your tax assessment notice

Every year in March you will receive a tax assessment notice for the previous income year. The tax assessment notice is a statement of your income, tax allowances and deductions and taxes paid for a particular income year. The tax authorities will be informed about your income, tax paid etc. by your employer, and the numbers will be written in the tax assessment notice. It is up to you to check that the figures are correct. If they are correct, you do not have to do anything. If they are incorrect, or if some figures are missing, you must notify SKAT via e-tax (Danish: TastSelv) on the Internet, by phone or via a tax return form.

3. Final tax notice (Danish: årsopgørelse)

Changes made to the preliminary tax assessment within the deadline should be taken into consideration in the final tax notice. If you identify any discrepancies, please notify the tax authority immediately. If you are to receive a tax refund, you do not have to do anything. The amount will be transferred directly to your designated bank account. However, this requires that you have an EasyAccount (Danish Nemkonto) (see "Bank"). If necessary, ask your bank to help you designate a bank account as your NemKonto. This service is free of charge.

If you have made an underpayment of tax you will be charged interests.

Tax rates

Bottom-bracket tax (Danish: Bundskat): 12,1% of annual income over 46,600 DKK after deduction of the labour market contribution (AM-bidrag) (2022).

Top bracket tax (Danish: Topskat): 15% of annual income over 552,500 DKK after deduction of the labour market contribution.

Labour market contribution, AM-bidrag (Danish: Arbejdsmarkedsbidrag): 8% of annual income. This is a gross tax, which means it is calculated before any deductions or tax related issues are taken into account.

Municipality tax (Danish: Kommuneskat): approximately 25% (varies from municipality to municipality). You can find the actual municipality tax at www.skm.dk > Skattetal > Satser > Kommuneskatter

Church tax (Danish: Kirkeskat) 0.868% (average – depending on municipality) (only if you are a member of The State Church).

Indirect tax – Value Added Tax (Danish: moms) 25% of all goods and services. VAT is an indirect consumption tax. Please note that tax rates and deductions may change.

Allowances

All income is taxable, both money and payments in kind. However, there are various allowances that can be deducted from the taxable income, such as the personal allowance, certain types of interest on loans, travelling expenses to work, union fees and contributions to unemployment insurance. It is worth having these allowances entered in the tax card from the outset

In 2020, every taxpayer over 18 years of age is entitled to a personal tax allowance of 46,500 DKK per year. This tax allowance is automatically taken into consideration by the tax authority and therefore does not need to be stated explicitly.

Employee allowance (Danish: Beskæftigelsesfradrag)

This allowance is 10,65%, but it is limited to a maximum of 41,600 DKK.

Job allowance (Danish: Jobfradrag)

This allowance is 4,5% of income over 202,700 DKK, but limited to a maximum of 2,700 DKK.

Deduction of transport between home and work (Danish: Kørselsfradrag)

If you have more than 24 km to and from work (that is more than 12 km each way), you are entitled to a deduction for transport between home and work no matter what means of transport you use. What can be deducted is not the actual expenses but a deduction based on fixed rates, the number of kilometers driven, the number of working days per year etc. The means of transport you use is irrelevant, and if several persons ride in the same car, they are all entitled to a commuting deduction. The deduction is calculated on the basis of the normal transport route by car, no matter what means of transportation you are actually using. Also, it must be based on the primary place of residence – even if you live in a holiday home for part of the year and therefore have to travel further to get to work.

Current deduction rates can be found on www.skat.dk

Tax allowances for certain types of interest on loans, union fees and contributions to unemployment insurance

These tax allowances depend on the actual costs. Please submit the appropriate documentation (e.g. invoices for contributions) to your tax authority.

Tax calculation example

To give you an idea how much of your income will be left after taxes have been deducted, please check the following sample calculation (information provided without warranty):

Gross salary = 27,385 DKK per month

- Base pay only, with no bonuses
- Unmarried
- Not a church member
- No union contributions
- 5 kilometers to work

Key employees and researchers

If you come to Denmark as a researcher or key employee, you may possibly enjoy a reduced tax rate of 27% for a maximum of 84 months. When you include the mandatory labour market contribution (8%), you will end up with 32,84% tax.

Researchers must be approved by the universities in order to enjoy the reduced tax.

Key employees must earn at least 70,400 DKK per month.

You will find further information about the key employee and researchers tax scheme in Denmark on www.skat.dk > English > Businesses > Foreign labour > Researchers and key employees Current deduction rates can be found on www.skat.dk

Payslip

Payslips can look different depending on the computer system or salary agency your employer uses. They may also contain different information – though certain information is obligatory.

Every time you receive your payslip, you should check that the figures are correct. You should also save your payslips until the end of the tax year and until your tax for the year has been calculated (on the annual tax statement). Your payslips are proof that you have paid tax. It is advisable to keep your pay slips for 3-5 years.

Payslip example

- CVR – (Central Business Register) number: Employer's number. All Danish employers are registered in the CVR register.
- Månedsløn / Pay: Could also be stated as "honorar" (fee), "indtægt" (income) etc. Your pay is usually stated at the top of the payslip, and the amount is your full pay before tax is deducted. At the bottom of the calculation the following is usually stated: "Løn til udbetaling" (Pay for disbursement), showing the actual amount that you will be paid.

- Fast tillæg: Flat rate allowance – agreed payment e.g. if you have special qualifications
- ATP – Arbejdsmarkedets tillægspension (Labour Market Supplementary Pension Fund): All employees between the age of 16 and 66 will pay to this pension scheme. The amount is deducted from your full pay (gross pay) before your tax is calculated.

- Arbejdsløshedsforsikring – contribution to an unemployment insurance fund:
- AM-bidrag – Arbejdsmarkedsbidrag (Labour market contribution): All working citizens must contribute a labour market contribution at a rate of 8%. The contribution is deducted from your gross pay after ATP has been deducted and before other allowances are deducted. Your tax is then calculated.

- A-skat – Tax: deducted from your payment. The tax which is charged on A-income, e.g. your ordinary income. Your employer will calculate your A-tax based on your withholding rate and pay the tax authorities.
- Fradrag – Allowances and deductions: The allowance corresponding to the pay period is deducted before the tax is calculated. From your tax card, your employer can see what your allowances and deductions are.
- Ferie – Holiday: number of accrued holiday/holiday payment. All employees will usually be entitled to holiday payment. This means that in addition to your pay, you will receive 12.5 per cent which is deposited into a holiday account and paid to you when you go on holiday. (See the fact sheet regarding holiday pay for more information)

You can assign an account in your home country as a Nemkonto.

Unemployment Insurance

In Denmark there is a distinction between unemployment benefit and social benefit. Unlike many other countries, unemployment insurance in Denmark is voluntary. Thus, you are not automatically insured against unemployment. This means that it is your own responsibility to become a member of an unemployment insurance fund (Danish: a-kasse). Unemployment insurance funds are private associations of employees or self-employed persons organised for the sole purpose of ensuring economic support in the event of unemployment. These are private associations that – in most cases – are associated with trade unions and other professional organizations.

Membership of an unemployment insurance fund is a precondition for receiving unemployment benefit. If you choose not to become a member of an unemployment insurance fund, you may not be entitled to any kind of financial support in case of unemployment.

If you decide to insure yourself when you start working in Denmark (which is recommended in most cases), it is an advantage to register with one of the 25 state recognised unemployment insurance funds within 8 weeks after you have given up your unemployment insurance in your home country.

You can become a member of an unemployment insurance fund if you:

- Are at least 18 years of age,
- Still have 2 years left before you reach your pension age, and
- Reside in Denmark (or another EU/EEA country and work in Denmark).

Furthermore you have to meet one of the following conditions:

- Have paid work within a profession covered by the unemployment insurance fund.
- Have completed a graduate program of at least 18 months in duration. Please note, that you can only become member of an unemployment insurance fund after graduation if you had your residence in Denmark immediately up till start of your education.
- Be a business-owner or help run your spouse's business.
- Hold a valid residence permit/document that allows you to take any job in Denmark

EU/EEA/Swiss Citizens, who have been working in another EU/EEA country or Switzerland

If you have not previously been a member of a Danish a-kasse, or if you were a member more than five years ago, you can transfer your insurance rights from another EU/EEA country, Switzerland to Denmark if you fulfil three conditions for membership in a Danish unemployment insurance fund:

1. Apply for membership of a Danish unemployment insurance fund within 8 weeks after you have terminated your employment insurance in an other EU/EEA country/Switzerland
2. You start working in Denmark within the 8 weeks
3. You work 296 hours within 12 weeks in Denmark for a Danish employer

As documentation for your unemployment insurance in another EU/EEA country, you must obtain the form PD U1. You can get this form from the unemployment insurance authority in the EU/EEA country where you have worked. It is a good idea to apply for the form before your travel to Denmark.

The unemployment insurance authority in the other EU/EEA country confirms what insurance or employment periods you have had through the form PD U1. Your Danish unemployment insurance fund or the Danish National Labour Market Authority can also help you to obtain this form, when you have arrived in Denmark.

You can be full-time or part-time insured. Once you have joined an unemployment insurance fund, you must pay a contribution. The contribution is approximately 450 DKK per month. The contribution can be deducted in your tax.

A list of all unemployment insurance funds can be found on www.star.dk > Tilsyn > Tilsyn og kontrol med a-kasser > Oversigt over a-kasser (in Danish only).

All unemployment funds offer free of charge advice and guidance on issues connected with unemployment benefits and job search.

Unemployment insurance is voluntary in Denmark

If you lose your job

If you have been working in Denmark and you lose your job, you must consider your unemployment benefit status and your residence status.

Financial support

Membership of an unemployment insurance fund is a precondition for receiving unemployment benefits. If you are not a member and lose your job in Denmark, you may not be entitled to any kind of financial support. To clarify, you must contact the local Jobcenter and ask for advice.

Work and residence permit / registration document

Your Danish work and residence permit/residence document is based on your employment. If you lose your job you must contact the Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration (SIRI) to check if your residence permit/document will lapse. You can find the rules and regulations and contact information on www.newtodenmark.dk.

Members of an unemployment insurance fund (Danish: a-kasse)

If you lose your job in Denmark and want to register as a jobseeker with unemployment benefit, it is important that you:

1. Register yourself as a user of "Jobnet" – online or in person at the Jobcenter as unemployed on the first day as unemployed – www.jobnet.dk. You will need your NemID to sign up.
2. Upload your CV on www.jobnet.dk no later than two weeks after your first day of unemployment. You must continuously record your job search in the job log on Jobnet and keep contact to the Jobcenter.
3. Contact your unemployment insurance fund immediately after you have become unemployed
4. Check your work and residence status on www.newtodenmark.dk

At your local Jobcenter you can get further information and guidance about the registration procedure and your rights and duties as unemployed.

Not member of an unemployment insurance fund (Danish: a-kasse)

If you lose your job in Denmark and you are not a member of an unemployment insurance fund, you may not be entitled to any public financial support. Please contact the Jobcenter for further information about financial support.

Unemployment benefit

As a member of an unemployment insurance fund (a-kasse), you can receive unemployment benefits if you become unemployed for a period of time. You can receive unemployment benefits if you:

- Are unemployed
- Have been a member of an unemployment insurance fund for the past 12 months
- Have earned minimum 238,512 DKK while being a member of an unemployment insurance fund.
- Are registered as a jobseeker with your local Jobcenter (jobnet.dk)
- Can seek and undertake work for 37 hours per week (if you are full-time insured and 30 hours per week if you are part-time insured).

Important

You must be actively searching for jobs and be willing to accept offers of employment when you are unemployed and are receiving unemployment benefits.

There are several rules and regulations concerning unemployment benefits. It is your responsibility to comply with the regulations. If you fail to comply, your unemployment benefits will be stopped. Please ask for advice concerning rules and regulations at your unemployment insurance fund.

The Jobcenter and the unemployment insurance funds offer information and guidance – please ask if you have any doubts or questions.

Benefit rate

The unemployment benefit rate is calculated by your unemployment insurance fund based on your previous two years income. You will receive 90% of your previous income with a maximum of 19,086 DKK/month – 238,512 DKK/Year (2020).

You can normally receive unemployment benefit from the first day of unemployment. However, your employer often has to pay your unemployment benefit for the first two days – so-called G-days.

If you have terminated your employment yourself or if you are responsible for losing your job, you will normally receive unemployment benefit following three weeks quarantine. It is important, however, that you register with the jobcenter on the first day after the expiry of the notice period.

Job search in another EU/EEA country with unemployment benefits

It is possible to bring your unemployment benefits from one EU/EEA country to another EU/EEA country if you are searching for job. You can apply for Danish unemployment benefits for job search in another EU/EEA country for up to three months by using the PD U2 form. Contact your unemployment insurance fund to find out if you qualify for this scheme.

Unions

The Danish job market is regulated primarily by means of collective bargaining agreements between unions and employer associations. The state interferes as little as possible in regulating the labour market e.g. in wages and work conditions. Unions in Denmark therefore have a great deal of influence and enjoy a positive image. Most employees in Denmark are members of a union.

In Denmark, there is no statutory minimum wage. Instead, the unions are continuously negotiating collective bargaining agreements. There is generally no “13th pay check” in Denmark (Christmas bonus) or “14th pay check” (holiday allowance). However, many unions regularly negotiate supplemental pay based on performance or qualifications for their members.

Apart from representing their members in collective bargaining negotiations, the services provided by unions also include expert legal advice in the case of conflicts with employers as well as further job training options. Furthermore, many unions offer cost-effective private insurance, such as liability and household contents insurance.

Many workplaces have labour representatives (Danish: tillidsmand), who speak for the interests of employees in dealings with company management.

Which union you can organise with will depend above all on your education and your job. If you would like to become a union member, you should ideally look in your employment contract. In many instances, this contract specifies the union responsible for your field of employment. Of course, you can also ask your colleagues or your manager for advice.

Most unions also have an affiliated unemployment insurance fund (Danish: a-kasse), which pays an unemployment benefit (Danish: dagpenge) in case of unemployment. You can decide yourself whether you want to join both the union and the unemployment insurance fund or whether you only want to join one of the two. Of course, you may also choose a different unemployment insurance fund from the one offered by your union (see also the information about the unemployment insurance fund).

Banks and Bank Account

There are 15-20 national and regional banks in Denmark. In addition, there are about 170 smaller local banks. All banks offer personal advice in the normal opening hours. Most banks are open from 9:30 to 16:00 from Monday to Friday and until 18:00 on Thursdays.

Everybody who works in Denmark must have a bank account as your salary will be paid directly into your account. In order to open a bank account you must have a Danish CPR number. To open a bank account you must bring:

- Your passport/national ID card
- Your employment contract (workers) or letter of acceptance from your educational institution (students)

- Your yellow health card or the letter from Borgerservice you received, when you registered for the CPR number indicating your CPR number and your Danish address.

Please note: workers with a tax CPR number (cross border workers and workers, who work in Denmark for less than 3 months) must bring:

- Your passport/national ID card
- Your employment contract
- Proof of your address in your home country (rental contract, transcript from the municipality or similar)
- Your Danish tax number/card

Current account

Most Danes use online banking for payment. Many banks offer free access to online banking – some in English language. If the account is managed exclusively by online banking, this can have a positive impact on the fees and you can save as a result. Your bank will issue a bank card for access to the account.

Designated bank account (Danish: Nemkonto)

Since 2005, Denmark has had a special regulation that requires persons living or working in Denmark to have a designated bank account known as a NemKonto. NemKonto enables Danish authorities and institutions to transfer money directly to citizens' bank accounts, such as tax refunds, social welfare payments, salaries, etc..

If it is not possible for you to open a Danish bank account, you can also assign an account in your home country as a NemKonto. All you need to do is to decide which of your existing accounts you wish to use as your NemKonto and use the selfservice system at www.nemkonto.dk > English > Foreign NemKonto Citizen > fill in the form and send it to NemKonto Support.

Bank cards in Denmark

In Denmark, a distinction is drawn between cash withdrawal, debit and credit cards:

With a debit card, you can withdraw money from various ATMs and make cash-free payments. The account will be debited immediately. The most popular of these is the Dankort, which can be used in most places for free, but only in Denmark.

With a cash withdrawal card, you can normally withdraw money from the automated teller of the bank where you have an account, but you cannot generally use it to make cash-free payments. A cash withdrawal card is always free.

In most cases, you can use credit cards for credit transactions. You will receive a monthly bill which you can pay either all at once or in part. To get a credit card in Denmark, you need to be creditworthy. This means that you will need to be able to show regular incoming payments. The most popular credit cards in Denmark are Mastercard and VISA. Please note that not all stores accept all international credit cards.

Automatic electronic payment (Danish: Betalingsservice)

If you have a bank account and access to online banking you can use the automatic electronic payment system – Betalingsservice. If you regularly receive bills from the same company, organizations or public service institutions as for instance rent, private insurance, day care, sport club fees etc. you can use Betalingsservice. You can register the bills in the Betalingsservice system. The bills will automatically be paid on the payment date and the money will be withdrawn from your bank account automatically. You will be informed via your netbank which bills will be paid when. This ensures that you bills will be paid on time.

90% of all Danes use Betalingsservice. For further information and guidance, please contact your bank.

Electronic payment

The most common electronic payment system is MobilePay. MobilePay is an application for phones with operating systems iOS and Android. By downloading this application, users are required to connect a credit card and account information to their mobile number. Money transfers are performed by entering a mobile phone number which is registered in the system. The funds are then transferred to this account, while the amount is deducted from the sender's credit card. There are no fees for private MobilePay accounts. Some Danish banks also offer Apple Pay and GooglePay

NemID

NemID is a digital signature with a common log-in solution for banks, local public and government websites (e.g. tax and municipal authorities) and some private companies. If you are more than 15 years old and have a CPR number you are eligible for a NemID. You will be able to log in at websites from all computers or from the NemID App.

Users of NemID are assigned a unique ID number which can be used as a username in addition to their CPR number or a userdefined username. NemID offers strong protection against intruders and hackers.

Users receive a card containing pairs of numbers, similar to transaction authentication numbers. After logging in with a username and password, NemID users are prompted to enter a key corresponding to a number as part of NemID's two-factor authentication scheme. These private keys are one time use only. When all the keys are used you must get a new key card. Electronic keys can be downloaded via the NemID App.

NemID is issued at the local Citizens Service Center or your Danish bank – please remember personal ID papers e.g. passport and your CPR number.

For more information, please go to www.nemid.nu > English flag

MitID

The Danish national eID, MitID, is every resident's personal key to digital services in Denmark, including self-service solutions provided by the public sector.

In Denmark, your contact with the public authorities and many private companies starts on the internet. In a large number of areas, you are obliged to use digital self-service.

In order to access digital self-services, you need MitID which is your personal digital ID for login and digital signature. It allows for citizens to access their public services 24 hours a day.

In the public sector this applies, for example, when you:

- change your address
- apply for childcare
- see your tax
- choose a doctor
- read your Digital Post
- leave Denmark

Denmark has recently replaced NemID with MitID.

There may still be private service providers who have not switched to MitID yet, so you might need NemID as well. If you need to access a specific website that uses NemID, you can get a NemID at the Citizen Service. You can find more information at the NemID website:

www.nemid.nu

You can apply for MitID by contacting your local municipality's Citizen Service.

If you do not have MitID and, for instance, have received a summons from your hospital that you need to read immediately, you should contact your local municipality's Citizen Service and apply for MitID.

It is important that you bring valid identification such as your national id and your Danish health insurance card in order to receive MitID.

e-Boks

The e-Boks is a secure electronic mailbox where you can receive and store documents that you normally receive in the post. e-Boks is free of charge.

With just a few clicks you can choose which companies and public authorities you want to receive mail from to your e-Boks. You can receive mail from all Danish municipalities, almost all banks and many pension, insurance, energy and telecommunications companies. Businesses cannot send any other material or unsolicited advertising to your e-Boks.

The e-Boks is linked to your social security number (Danish: CPR-number) and can follow you if you move or change email address. You do not need to remember new passwords to access your documents. Use your digital signature, NemID pincode or online banking info to log into your e-Boks. For further information, please go to www.e-boks.com > English

How to register

Create an e-Boks account on www.e-boks.com > English > New user and follow the instructions or download the e-Boks app

When you have new mail, you will receive an email and/or a text message. You can find further information at www.e-boks.com.

Digital post

All citizens in Denmark above the age of 15, registered with a Danish personal registration number (CPR number) must register for Digital Post.

Digital Post from public authorities is the same type of letters that you already receive from the authorities. Digital Post includes any letters from hospitals, pension statements, information about state education support (SU), changes to housing benefits, replies to applications for childcare, letters from the Danish Tax and Customs Administration (SKAT), etc. Your digital post can be accessed on either of two secure websites – www.lifeindenmark.dk > Living in Denmark > Digital post or from your e-Boks.

Recognition of Foreign Training Qualifications

Training qualifications obtained abroad do not always match those in Denmark. An individual assessment may sometimes be needed to evaluate your training and, if necessary, also your professional experience as they relate to employment in Denmark. The Danish Agency for Science and Higher Education (Danish: Styrelsen for Forskning og Uddannelse) is responsible for recognising foreign training qualifications in Denmark.

There are several ways of having your foreign qualifications assessed and recognised in Denmark. Which procedure is appropriate depends on how you plan to use your qualifications.

On www.ufm.dk > English > Shortcuts > Assessment, you can read more about recognition of your foreign qualifications depending on if you plan to use them for job search, if you wish to practice a regulated profession, pay grading or for admission to education in Denmark.

The website also contains information about competence assessment if you have undocumented competences or qualifications.

You can download a form for obtaining recognition for your training from www.ufm.dk

Authorisation for regulated professions

If you wish to practise a regulated profession in Denmark, you need an authorisation or similar recognition by the competent authority. You can find a list of the regulated professions and the competent authorities at www.ufm.dk > English > Assessment > Regulated professions.

Please note that applications for authorisation to practice in Denmark as a medical doctor, dentist, nurse, mid-wife, physiotherapist and other health professions are handled by the Danish Patient Safety Authority (Danish: Styrelsen for Patientsikkerhed). The Danish Patient Safety Authority charges a fee for the certificate of authorisation. You can find more information on www.stps.dk > English > Apply for registration > Choose profession

Criminal Background Certificate

A private criminal background certificate contains information regarding any judgements, previous convictions and punishable offences. In some cases, an employer will require you to present a criminal background certificate before you start work. In order for you to have the certificate issued, you need:

- A written and signed consent
 - A photocopy of your valid passport
 - A postal address the certificate can be sent to
- Please email all documents to mvjyl-pac-kr@politi.dk. The processing time is approximately three working days plus the time it takes for the letter to reach its destination via regular postal service. Due to Danish Law, it is not possible to send your certificate of criminal record by email.

The issuance of a certificate of criminal record is free of charge.

If you have NemID you can request a certificate of criminal record online on www.politi.dk > In English > Certificate of criminal record.

LIFE IN DENMARK

Social Security and Sickness Benefit

The subject of insurance is a part of making the right start in a new country. You will certainly have obtained insurance of one kind or another in your home country. In this case, it is particularly important for you to talk with insurance representatives in your home country before immigrating to Denmark. Of course, you do not necessarily have to cancel all of your old policies if you take work in Denmark.

Social security

Social security operates on the principle that you are insured in the country in which you are working. This means that if you are working in Denmark, you have the same entitlement to social security benefits as Danish citizens. Social security in Denmark is tax-funded. Therefore, you do not pay health insurance contributions, long-term healthcare insurance, etc. in Denmark unlike what you might be used to in other countries.

When you have registered with the Danish Personal Register (CPR number) you will receive a yellow health card (Danish: Sundhedskort). The card will be sent to you by post. Please remember to put your name on your mail box/front door. The health insurance card will contain your personal registration number and name, address and telephone number of your family doctor. The insurance card is the "entrance ticket" to the Danish social security system. With this card, medical care provided by doctors and hospitals is basically free of charge. However, dental care is only covered in part or not at all. Please bring your insurance card every time you visit the doctor.

If your insurance card is lost or damaged, a replacement card costs 215 DKK (2022). However, the replacement card may be free of charge in special cases such as name changes after marriage or if you change your address.

Health Insurance and Sickness Benefits

Health insurance

There is an option to choose between two health insurance groups (1 or 2). If you are a group 1 member, you choose one recognised general practitioner (GP) as your family doctor. You must have a referral issued by the general practitioner if you need to go to a medical specialist. The medical treatment is free. You may change doctors, if you wish. However, applications to change doctors must be submitted to the respective municipality.

If you are a group 2 member, you have a free choice of doctors and specialists. If you are insured in this group, you may have to pay part of the medical treatment yourself. Hospital care is free for both insurance groups, and all patients can freely choose any public hospital.

If you are unable to work due to illness, you may be required to give a doctor's certificate to either your employer or to the local health administration. Normally, this happens after three days of illness, in special cases, however, it can be earlier.

Either your employer or the health administration will pay for this certificate.

Sickness benefit

A sickness benefit is paid by the employer from the first full day lost. However, you should note that different rules apply for the different collective bargaining agreements. Please contact your Danish union, your employer or your municipality for further information.

Health insurance if you travel in Europe – The blue European Health Insurance Card

The yellow Health Insurance Card will not cover you with health insurance on travels outside Denmark, Greenland, and the Faroe Islands. EU/EEA citizens who need medical treatment during travels in the EU, Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein (EEA), or Switzerland will have to use the blue European Health Insurance Card.

The blue European Health Insurance Card entitles you to the same treatment as the citizens in the country you are visiting in the EU/EEA and Switzerland. This entails that your coverage varies depending on the country you are visiting. If you wish to avoid any kind of self-payment for treatment, you must sign a private travel insurance with your insurance agency.

The insurance Card should be ordered at www.lifeindenmark.dk > Coming to Denmark > Healthcare > "The blue European Health Insurance Card". Here you are also able to order the card for your spouse or children in the same household as you. To order the card, you will have to use your NemID login. If you, in the case of special circumstances, are not able to order the blue card online, please contact Udbetaling Danmark, telephone +45 70 12 80 81.

Non-EU/EEA citizens who travel to another EU/EEA country must take up a private travel insurance. Non-EU/EEA citizens married to or in cohabitation with an EU/EEA or Danish citizen can order the card at www.lifeindenmark.dk > Coming to Denmark > Healthcare > "The blue European Health Insurance Card".

Pensions

Old-age pensions in Denmark are essentially based on four elements:

1. The basic social pension (Danish: folkepension)
2. Supplemental jobmarket pension (Danish: ATP, arbejdsmarkedets tillægspension)
3. Company pensions
4. Private pension insurance (Danish: private pensionsordninger)

The Danish state offers to defer taxation as an incentive for signing up with company and private old-age pensions. This means that contributions within certain limits are tax deductible, but will be taxed as income when the benefits are paid out.

1. The basic state pension (Danish: folkepension)

The Danish folkepension is a tax-funded social security pension in the form of one basic pension scheme for all. It consists of a base sum and a supplement that is dependent on the recipient's financial situation. Recipients living alone receive a higher supplement than those who live together with another person. The rates are adjusted annually and can be viewed at www.borger.dk (in Danish).

In Denmark, everyone over the age of 65 - 68 is entitled to the general social security pension. Due to recent legislation, the pensionable age in Denmark is going to be raised gradually to 67 (2019 - 2022) and 68 (2030)

EU/EEA citizens who have been working in Denmark are entitled to pension from Denmark according to the pro rata temporis principle. This means that you will receive pension from Denmark according to the number of years you have been working in Denmark. An example: you have been working in Germany for 20 years and in Denmark for 20 years. When you reach your pension age you will receive your pension from both countries - 50% from each country no matter in which EU/EEA country you choose to live as a pensioner.

2. Supplemental jobmarket pension (Danish: ATP, arbejdsmarkedets tillægspension)

All wage and salary earners between 16 and 67 years of age who work at least nine hours per week pay contributions into the ATP system. Employers also pay contributions. The monthly contributions are relatively low and can be viewed at www.lifeindenmark.dk > Living in Denmark > Pension > ATP Livslang pension. You can also find them on your payslip. The additional pension you can expect from this fund is relatively low.

3. Company pensions / Labour market pension

Labour market pension is a pension scheme that is established as part of your employment in Denmark. Normally, both you and your employer pay contributions to the pension through wages. The pension is in most cases a fixed percentage of your wage.

Labour market pensions often contain payments that are disbursed to a spouse and children if you die before retirement. Most pensions also hold insurance for you if you lose the ability to work.

If you leave Denmark while you are still economically active, you may choose to continue paying into your pension. If you stop paying, the insurances that are part of the schemes will typically no longer be in force after one year. You can have your pension paid out abroad if you do not live in Denmark any longer.

Please contact your pension company, your pension fund or your financial institution if you want to learn more about your labour market pensions.

4. Individual pension

Individual pension is a scheme which you yourself set up and save in through a Danish pension company, financial institution or the like. The pension provides you with income when you grow older. Furthermore, it may contain insurances for you and your family if you lose the ability to work or you die. Some individual pension schemes are tax deductible.

If you leave Denmark while you are still economically active, you may choose to continue paying into your pension. If you stop paying, the insurances that are part of the schemes will typically no longer be in force after one year.

You can have your pension paid out abroad if you do not live in Denmark any longer.

Please contact your pension company, your pension fund or your financial institution if you want to learn more about your individual pensions.

Children in Denmark

Denmark has a population of 5.8 million, 1.152,995 of which are children up to 17 years of age. The birth rate among Danish women is above the average for Europe at 1.7. Almost 80% of Danish mothers work.

If you are pregnant

As soon as you know you are pregnant you should contact your family doctor. Your family doctor will inform you about all practical matters (medical tests during your pregnancy, antenatal classes, hospitals etc.) and enroll you in the public pregnancy program.

Children born in Denmark

Children born in Denmark by foreign citizens must apply for a Danish residence document/residence permit.

Children born in Denmark will get a temporary CPR number right after the birth. The hospital informs the Danish National Church that registers all new births, irrespective of religion, on behalf of the state.

Once the child has obtained the residence document/residence permit, you must apply for the yellow health card at the local municipality Citizen Service Center (Danish: Borgerservice).

You can apply for a birth certificate in your local church. Please find your local church on borger.personregistrering.dk – write your Danish address. You can also apply for the birth certificate on www.borger.dk > Familie og børn > Fødselsregistrering > Får jeg en attest på mit barn > Attester > Bestil fødselsattest. The website is in Danish language only. You will need your NemID.

Application procedure

- Step 1. Apply for a passport/national ID card at the authorities in your country of origin or at your embassy/consulate in Denmark. You normally need the birth certificate in order to apply.
- Step 2. Apply for a residence document (EU/EEA and Swiss citizens) / residence permit (non-EU/EEA/Swiss citizens). Further information and application form on www.newtodenmark.dk >

You want to apply > Family > choose "EU residence as family member to an EU citizen" or "Residence permit as a family member" (non-EU/EEA/Swiss citizens).

Step 3. Apply for a Danish CPR number at the municipal Citizen Service Center (Danish: Borgerservice)

Please note that you must complete each step before you can move on to the next one.

As part of the pregnancy program you will be visited by a nurse a number of times after the birth. The nurse offers guidance and advice about the children's vaccination program, breastfeeding etc.

Maternity/paternity leave

No later than three months before the expected date of birth you must inform your employer about your pregnancy and when you plan to take your maternity leave. As a father to be, you have to inform your employer no later than four weeks before you expect to take your paternity leave, when you wish to take your two weeks of leave.

Leave with maternity benefits is divided into four stages:

- Pregnancy leave for the mother four weeks before expected childbirth.
- Maternity leave for the mother for 14 weeks after the childbirth.
- Paternity leave for the father or the co-mother for two weeks after the childbirth according to agreement with the employer before the child reaches 14 weeks.
- Parental leave for up to 32 weeks which the parents can split.

Maternity/paternity benefit

Maternity benefits are benefits that you have the possibility of getting as compensation for the income which you do not get when you are on maternity leave. Your possibility of obtaining maternity benefits depends on your affiliation with the labour market, meaning if you are:

- A salaried employee on maternity leave
- An unemployed person on maternity leave
- Self-employed on maternity leave or
- Students and graduates on maternity leave.

If you are an employee and have worked in Denmark for the last four whole months, you will receive parental benefit if you meet the following conditions:

- You have employment the day before the leave starts or on the first day of it.
- You have worked at least 160 hours within the last four whole months before your leave.
- You have worked at least 40 hours per month for at least three of those four months.

If you move to Denmark after the birth of your child, you are eligible for the benefits from Udbetaling Danmark if:

- You meet the employee-conditions above or are eligible to receive unemployment benefits.
- You no longer receive maternity/paternity benefits from the country that you arrive from.
- Your child was born less than 46 weeks ago.

Application

Your employer applies for your maternity/paternity benefits through NemRefusion. Subsequently, you will receive a letter of notification from Udbetaling Danmark asking you to fill in a form for additional information which you have to return.

Please find further information about maternity leave and benefit on www.lifeindenmark.dk > Coming to Denmark > Family and children > Maternity/paternity benefit.

Maternity benefits are administered by Udbetaling Danmark (Public Benefits Administration). If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact them by phone +45 70 12 80 64

Child Benefits (Danish: børnefamilieydelse)

EU/EEA/Swiss citizens

In Denmark parents receive child benefits for each child under 18 years of age. In addition, various allowances are payable for children of single parents and for multiple births (twins, triplets, etc.).

All children registered in Denmark will automatically receive the child benefit if:

- Your child is under 18
- Your child lives in Denmark
- You live in Denmark
- The person who has custody of the child is fully liable for tax in Denmark
- Your child has not been placed in a foster home or is otherwise a ward of the state
- You have lived or worked in Denmark, the Faroe Islands or Greenland for at least six of the last 10 years or earned the right to family benefits in other EU/EEA countries or Switzerland.

In order to receive the child benefit, at least one of the parents, who have custody of the child, must have resided or worked in Denmark or another EU/EEA country for a minimum of 6 years within the last 10 years in order to receive the full amount.

If you are an EU/EEA/Swiss citizen, who have worked or resided in an EU/

EEA country or Switzerland for less than 6 years within the last 10 years, you are entitled to a percentage of the child benefit proportional to the time you have been living and working in Denmark or another EU/EEA country. Please find further information on www.lifeindenmark.dk > Family and children > Child benefits

If you live in another EU/EEA country or Switzerland with your family and work in Denmark

If you live in another EU/EEA country or Switzerland and work exclusively in Denmark, you will in general be covered by the Danish social security system. This means that you will have the right to family benefits from Denmark if you meet the conditions listed above.

If the child's other parent works in the country where you live, you will receive family benefits in that country. If

Danish family benefits are higher than the benefits in the country where you live, Denmark will pay the difference. If the Danish benefit is lower than in the country where you are living, you will not receive family benefits from Denmark

If your child does not live in Denmark, you have to apply for the benefit by contacting Udbetaling Danmark by phone +45 70 12 80 62 or by email udbetalingdanmark@atp.dk.

Non-EU/EEA citizens

If you are not a citizen in an EU/EEA country or Switzerland, you can apply for the benefit by contacting Udbetaling Danmark by phone +45 70 12 80 62. You can also contact Udbetaling Danmark by email to udbetalingdanmark@atp.dk.

Please be aware not to send sensitive personal information such as your social security number to Udbetaling Danmark via email because email is not a secure communication channel. If you need to send sensitive personal information, you must send a letter to Udbetaling Danmark, Kongens Vænge 8, 3400 Hillerød.

How to apply for the child benefit

If you are a citizen in an EU/EEA country, please fill in the application form and send it to Udbetaling Danmark. Please find the form at www.lifeindenmark.dk > Coming to Denmark > Family and children > Child benefits > How to apply

Child and youth benefits (as of 2022)

- Children 0 – 2 years old:
4,653 DKK quarterly
- Children 3 – 6 years old:
3,681 DKK quarterly
- Children 7 – 14 years old:
2,898 DKK quarterly
- Youth 15 – 17 years old:
966 DKK per month

Parents with a yearly income of more than 828,100 DKK will receive a reduced child benefit.

The child benefit is paid on a quarterly basis. The child benefit is tax free.

If you need help or have questions you can contact Udbetaling Danmark by phone +45 70 12 80 62 (Monday – Wednesday 8.00 to 16.00, Thursday 8.00 to 18.00, Friday 8.00 to 15.00).

Childcare (0 to 6 years old)

Denmark has a long tradition for public childcare. All families in Denmark are offered public childcare. In Denmark, 90 percent of children aged 3–5 years are cared for in a day care facility.

The Danish public childcare system is based on a partial free system, and although some day care institutions have waiting lists, most guarantee a place for children from the age of one. The options consist of day nurseries (birth to 3 years), kindergartens (3–6 years) and pre-school/after-school centers (6–10 years). In addition, there is the option of local childcare (Danish: dagpleje), in which children are cared for in private homes.

For children below the age of three, parents can choose nursery (Danish: vuggestue) or family day care (Danish: dagpleje). A nursery is an institution designed to look after larger groups of small children while family day care involves only four or five children, looked after by a childminder in his/her own home.

Childcare for three to five year-olds takes place in kindergartens. Most Danish kindergartens are public, but you will also find private ones. Almost all Danish families send their children to kindergarten. All Danish kindergartens have professionally trained staff, but children do not receive pre-school teaching. Instead, Danish kindergartens stimulate children's social, linguistic and democratic skills, primarily through play.

Childcare facilities receive financial support from the state. The amount payable out of pocket by parents is at most 30 percent of the actual cost. The opening hours of the care facilities are in most cases 6.30 to 17.00 and Fridays until 16.00. A maximum of 48 hours of care is offered per week. You can register your child for one of these services in the municipality administration office (department: Pladsanvisningen).

School

Apart from subject knowledge, a great deal of value is placed on acquiring social skills (team skills, etc.). Learning together and developing stable social relationships with fellow pupils, teachers and educators are important here. Therefore, classes remain together up to the end of the 9th year. Value is placed on creativity, perceptions, learning by experimentation, independence and self-reliance. For further information and registration, please contact your local Citizens Service Centre.

Basic school

Schooling in Denmark starts with the nine-year basic school (Danish: folkeskole), which concludes with a final examination called the FSA (Danish: folkeskolens afgangsprøve). After this final examination, pupils have several different options.

Many pupils choose to complete year 9 or 10 at one of the so-called efterskoler. The efterskole is a unique Danish independent residential school for students between 14 and 18 years old. Presently some 28.500 students attend one of the approximately 260 schools throughout Denmark.

The schools are open to students from abroad, but please note that to attend you, like Danish students, must pay school fees (more info at www.efterskolerne.dk > English)

Apart from normal school topics the students at most of the efterskoler are focusing on developing other abilities – primarily social, artistic, sporting or musical skills.

Because pupils are not required to take year 10, they can attend an upper secondary school after either year 9 or year 10.

Upper secondary school

(Danish: Studentereksamen (STX), commercial grammar school (HHX) and technical grammar school (HTX)).

Upper secondary school lasts for three years in Denmark, upper secondary education divides into:

1. General education qualifying for access to higher education
2. Vocational or technical education qualifying primarily for access to the labour market.

It normally caters for the 16-19-year olds and is comprised of

- The general upper secondary education provision of the Gymnasium
- The higher preparatory examination or HF-programme
- The higher commercial examination or HHX-programme
- The higher technical examination or HTX-programme

More information concerning the Danish school system and the different programmes can be found on: www.uvm.dk > English

International schools

Some families who come to Denmark for professional reasons prefer to send their children to an international school. Some of the international schools have waiting lists, but the Danish government is prioritising the creation of more places at Danish international schools – and the Danish international schools were recently allowed to increase their student intake.

Native language classes

Children with other native language than Danish can attend classes in their native language. If you would like further information on this, please contact the Citizens Service Centers in the municipality in which you live.

IB Programme

The International Baccalaureate Diploma (IB) is a two year international upper secondary educational programme designed for highly motivated young people aged sixteen to nineteen who would like to be part of an international community.

The IB Diploma incorporates the best elements of several national systems, without being based on any of them. Throughout the years, the course has earned a reputation of being demanding and having rigorous assessment. The Diploma guarantees holders access to universities throughout the world.

In Denmark it gives students the same possibilities as the Danish Studentereksamen (upper secondary education) does.

You find a list of IB schools in Denmark on www.ibo.org > Find an IB world school > write Denmark in the search field.

IB Diploma is offered in the following cities:

- Birkerød Gymnasium, Birkerød
- Copenhagen International School
- EUC SYD, Sønderborg
- Grenaa Gymnasium, Grenaa
- Hasseris Gymnasium, Aalborg
- Herlufsholm Skole, Næstved
- Ikast-Brande Gymnasium, Ikast
- International School Hellerup
- Kolding Gymnasium, HF-kursus
- Aarhus Gymnasium – Tilst, Aarhus
- Aarhus International School, Aarhus
- Nyborg Gymnasium, Nyborg
- Esbjerg Gymnasium og HF
- Esbjerg International School, Esbjerg
- Nørre Gymnasium, Brønshøj
- Stenhus Gymnasium, Holbæk
- Struer Statsgymnasium, Struer
- Viborg Katedralskole
- North Zealand International School, Hørsholm

Apart from the IB Schools a number of Upper Secondary Schools offer education in English, German or French language. Contact your nearest Upper Secondary School (Danish: Gymnasium) for advice.

For more information, go to www.ug.dk > Programmes in English > General Upper Secondary School

Grades

Grades are only awarded in the higher classes in Denmark (in most cases, from year 7). This means that children can be more free and experience no stress with regards to grades at the start of their time in school. The grade system in Denmark is divided into a 12 point scale. The following grades are awarded: 12, 10, 7, 4, 02, 00, -3. Grade 12 is the highest grade and minus 3 is the lowest. A grade of 02 is generally required to pass an examination. Compared with the international ECTS (European Credit Transfer System) scale, the Danish grade system is as follows:

DANISH SCALE	UNDERSTANDING	ECTS SCALE
12	Outstanding	A
10	Superior, very good	B
7	Good	C
4	Average	D
02	Satisfactory	E
00	Not satisfactory	F
-3	Deficient	G

LEARNING THE DANISH LANGUAGE

Learning Danish makes your life in Denmark easier

If you wish to succeed in the Danish labour market and be part of the Danish society, it is advisable to take part in a Danish language course. In most Danish companies the working language is Danish and proper integration at work and particularly in Danish society is far easier if you make the effort to learn to speak Danish.

Danish courses are offered by both public and private language schools. Many of the courses on offer are tailored to suit both individuals and businesses.

All self-supporting international employees, accompanying partners and students over the age of 18, who have a valid Danish residence permit and a Danish CPR number have access to Danish language courses. A fee and deposit may apply.

Please contact your local Citizen Service for further information and information on how to sign up.

FVU Danish classes

If you have basic Danish language skills, you can take advantage of FVU (Danish: Forberedende voksenundervisning) Danish classes. FVU classes are for free.

Please contact your municipal job centre for further information on how to sign up.

Learning Danish via the internet

E-learning

Online language courses make it possible for you to learn Danish in a flexible way – even before arrival in Denmark.

On the internet you will find a number of other online Danish courses – write Online Danish language courses in the search field of your browser.

Life-long Learning

Denmark has a long-standing tradition of lifelong learning. Nearly one in three of the population in the age bracket 25 to 64 years participated in educational activities, counting both publicly funded and workplace internal and private education programmes and courses in connection with employment or in some form of leisure time education.

On www.studyindenmark.dk you will find useful and profound information about:

- The Danish education system
- Higher education
- Programmes taught in English
- Adult education and continuing training

LIVING EXPENSES

High prices, free welfare ... and high salaries

Consumer prices in Denmark are relatively high, but consumer prices must be compared with free of charge welfare services and the salary level.

The Danish salary levels are among the highest in the world and many welfare services are either free or state-subsidised in Denmark. Medical help, hospital treatment, schooling and elderly care are all free – and day care for children is far cheaper than in other countries. This means that the purchasing power is the same as in most European countries.

This figure shows how much of your income you spend on housing, food, transport etc.

Consumer prices in Denmark

In this index you can compare price levels of final consumption by private households including indirect taxes in the different EU/EEA countries. As you can see the consumer prices are 38% higher in Denmark than average prices in Europe.

The relatively high consumer prices are compensated by the high salaries in Denmark. This figure shows that the average gross earning of a full time employee in enterprises with 10 or more employees in Denmark is the highest in the European Union.

Private Insurance

Basic insurance (Danish: familiens basisforsikring or indboforsikring)

Basic insurance is one of the most important forms of insurance. In most cases, it is offered in an insurance package with the following forms of co-insurance:

1. Household contents insurance (Danish: indboforsikring): This covers your personal property against fire, theft and water damage.
2. Personal liability insurance (Danish: ansvarsforsikring): This covers damages you may have caused to other people or their property. It is strongly recommended to have a personal liability insurance.
3. Legal protection (Danish: retshjælp): This covers lawyer expenses for certain legal matters.

The cost of basic insurance depends on the age of the insured, the type of home and other factors. It starts at 1,600 DKK per year. Coverage for the entire family costs approximately 2,500 DKK per year.

Accident insurance (Danish: ulykkeforsikring)

Private accident insurance pays if you suffer lasting injury to your health due to an accident during your free time or an accident on the way to and from work. (Accidents at the workplace are covered by the occupational accident insurance held by your employer.)

The price for private accident insurance depends on the policy limit. The minimum cost of accident insurance coverage is approximately 400 DKK per year, while the average cost is approximately 1,200 DKK per year.

Children's accident insurance

A child's accident insurance policy consists of disability cover for permanent injury and funeral cover in case of death.

Damage to the child's teeth may also be covered, or may be offered as an extra cover for an additional charge.

Some insurance companies will cover your child automatically in the first year(s) of your own accident insurance policy. Check with your insurance company.

Group accident insurance

Group accident insurance policies are often purchased by workplaces, unions or union members.

Some schools and daycare centers buy collective accident insurance covering the children during their time in the school/center and on trips arranged by the school/center. In some cases the children's direct route between home and the school/center is also covered.

Loss of earning capacity insurance (Danish: Forsikring ved tab af erhvervsevne)

Loss of earning capacity insurance provides you and your family with a monthly payment in case you lose at least 50 percent of your earning capacity due to illness or an accident. If your employer pays a company pension, you may possibly be insured against loss of earning capacity through the company pension system.

The cost of loss of earning capacity insurance depends on income, age and state of health. The minimum cost is approximately 1,500 DKK per year, while the average cost is approximately 3,100 DKK per year.

Private health insurance (Danish: privat sundhedsforsikring)

With private health insurance, you can avoid waiting times in the public health system and consult private clinics, doctors, psychologists, acupuncturists, etc.

Life insurance (Danish: livsforsikring – ved død)

With life insurance you can provide your life partner and children with a payment of money in the event of your death. In this way, you can relieve the financial situation of family members that survive you when your income is lost to the family.

The cost of life insurance depends largely on the policy limit. For a policy limit of 400,000 DKK, you will pay approximately 1,300 DKK per year.

Dog insurance (Danish: hundeforsikring)

If you have a dog, pet insurance is a legal requirement. Insurance can also be obtained for other pets as well, though not legally required.

Cost: approximately 300 DKK per year.

Car insurance (Danish: bilforsikring)

The vast majority of private car owners have insured their car with a comprehensive insurance that includes liability insurance. If there is no debt on the car and if it is an older car, many settle for the compulsory liability insurance.

Responsibility for motor vehicles

According to the Road Traffic Act, the person responsible for a motor vehicle must compensate for any damage the vehicle causes in an accident, by explosion, or by fire stemming from the vehicle's fuel system. In other words, the owner is always liable for such accidents. Claims resulting from such accidents are paid via the vehicle's compulsory insurance.

Motor liability insurance

Liability insurance for a motor vehicle is compulsory and covers any liability for damages its owner or user may incur. The liability insurance does not cover damage to the motor vehicle's driver – only passengers are covered. Nor does the insurance cover damage to the policyholder's or user's objects or damage to any connected vehicles such as a trailer.

Comprehensive insurance

In addition to the statutory liability insurance, the owner of a motor vehicle (car, motorcycle or moped) can also take out comprehensive motor insurance on their vehicle. This covers any damage to the insured vehicle and theft of the vehicle. There are, however, some exceptions – ask your insurance company.

For further information, go to www.forsikringogpension.dk > Presse > Publikationer > Insurance and pension for everyday needs.

Housing

In Denmark – just like many other countries – you can either rent or buy a home. In Denmark there is also a special form of housing called the “condominium apartment” or “housing cooperative” (Danish: andelsbolig). This housing type can be considered to be something between renting and ownership. You buy a share in a building, then pay a monthly housing fee, which is used by the condominium association (Danish: andelsboligforening) for expenses such as interest payments, repairs and upgrades.

Many Danes sooner or later decide to buy a home or a condominium. Younger Danes frequently rent and wait to buy their own home later. The same applies for most of the foreign nationals who work in Denmark.

Because it is common practice to buy a home in Denmark, rental homes are a scarce commodity. This is particularly true of smaller rental homes in the lower price segment. Anyone looking for low-price housing in Denmark should therefore have patience and be prepared for the possibility that they will only get a short-term rental contract.

Finding a rental home (Danish: lejebolig)

The best means of finding a home is the internet. There are many Danish websites that advertise housing offers. Some of the sites include the option of a personal search profile. As soon as a home is available that matches your search profile in such a setting, you will receive notification by email.

Please note, that you may have to pay a fee on some of these sites, to be able to view the contact details for the landlord.

Apart from the internet, rental homes are also advertised in newspapers. You can find advertisements in regional and national newspapers. Another very useful place to look for housing adverts is in the local newspapers. Most of the advertisements for homes in the daily papers appear on the weekend.

A lot of flats are lent to members of housing associations (Danish: boligforening). Often there is a waiting list, and those with the highest seniority will be offered vacancies before others. You often have to pay an annual amount to be a member of a housing association. There are many housing associations in all Danish cities.

Rents

For a rental home, you will usually pay a security deposit of up to three months’ rent. In addition, an advance payment of one to three months’ rent is often required.

Rents in Denmark vary widely, depending on the region. Homes are most expensive in Copenhagen and Aarhus, while smaller towns and rural areas are considerably less expensive. Twenty kilometres here can mean a big difference in price.

Rental contract

The rental contract defines some of the rights and obligations of the tenant and landlord. This includes the amount of rent payable and the move-in and move-out condition of the home. For example, the contract will state whether the home needs to be renovated when the tenant moves out and who is to be responsible for maintaining doors, locks, etc. If you rent a home from a public housing enterprise, a written rental contract is required by law. A rental contract is not required by law for homes in private hand, but it is recommended nonetheless. If the landlord does not want to sign a rental contract, you should take a close look at their reasons. When subletting, a written contract is required by law in all cases.

In some cases, you can apply for a housing allowance from the municipality. Please find further information at www.lifeindenmark.dk > Living in Denmark > Your residence > Housing benefits

The Danish Tenant Union can be found at www.llo.dk (in Danish language – however, part of the information can be found in English). Check “5 things to know before signing a lease on www.llo.dk > Om LLO > In English

Buying an apartment or house

If you would like to purchase an apartment or a house, you can get information and guidance about home buying from real estate agents. Prices vary widely depending on the location, size and fixtures of the home.

It is common in Denmark for the buyer to obtain a loan from a building and loan association. For this purpose, the apartment or house serves as security.

Generally, a maximum of 80 percent of the property value can be financed using these loans, which have a repayment period of up to 30 years.

You pay taxes on the value of your property but in return, you can deduct any interest payable on a home loan from your tax calculation.

You can find links to real estate agents at sites such as www.boligsiden.dk (in Danish).

You can find a guide about buying and renting property in Denmark on www.danskeboligadvokater.dk > English.

Other living expenses

Other living expenses are taken here to mean payments for heating, electricity, water and possibly gas. In rental homes, these costs are usually charged on account, e.g. by instalments along with the rent. If the use of utilities is higher than estimated, the tenant has to make up the difference. If the use is lower, the over-paid amount has to be refunded by the landlord.

Moving

If you move your household within Denmark, you must inform the Citizens Service Centre (Danish: Borgerservice) about your new address. Please use www.lifeindenmark.dk > Living in Denmark > Your residence > Change address – when living in Denmark > Click on “Start”

You must choose the municipality that you are moving to. Please note that you have to do this within 5 days after you move in to the new home to avoid a fine.

As soon as you have changed your address via www.lifeindenmark.dk, the Danish Post will automatically be informed about your new address.

You can find an overview of firms pertaining to a household move on the internet. You can get quotes from moving companies at the website www.flyttetilbud.dk (in Danish).

Telephone and Internet

Telephone: All Danish telephone numbers consist of eight numbers and have the local code already integrated. The international code for Denmark is: +45.

Your foreign cell phone will of course also work in Denmark, provided that it has roaming capability. You should note that using a telephone you bring with you (or a SIM card from your home country) will involve what are known as roaming fees. Please contact your current cell phone provider for information about the exact amount of the roaming fees that will be charged. It may be a good idea for a start to use your mobile phone from your home country and buy a prepaid telephone card.

As in other countries, there are a large number of telephone and internet service providers in Denmark. Because the market here is also extremely difficult to navigate, it is recommended that you research the prices of each provider in advance. So-called "compact solutions", in which telephone, cell phone, internet and television are bundled into a single package are also widely offered.

Internet is widely used in Denmark and most households have private internet access. Because of this, much contact to Danish authorities takes place via the internet. You can use a free computer with internet access at the Danish libraries.

Bringing your Private Vehicle to Denmark

Residence in Denmark

If you take up residence in Denmark and bring a vehicle you must register your foreign registered vehicle within 30 days of arrival and you must pay a registration tax. This tax is based on the tax authorities valuation of the vehicle. The tax authorities do not make valuations based on an estimate. This means that the vehicle must be in Denmark and have passed a vehicle inspection in order for the tax authorities to be able to make the valuation. For information on how to register your vehicle please follow the five step-by-step instructions below.

Please note: the process of registering a vehicle with foreign number plates may be complicated and may also include forms which are only available in Danish. It is advisable to get help from a person who understands Danish.

Step 1 Before you import a vehicle

If you live in Denmark and import a vehicle with foreign number plates, you must:

inform the Danish Motor Vehicle Agency (Danish: Motorstyrelsen) that you are going to import a foreign registered vehicle by completing the online application on www.skat.dk > English > Shortcuts = Motor vehicles > Importing motor vehicles, before you import the vehicle.

Print your receipt as you need to keep it in your vehicle when your vehicle has foreign number plates.

Step 2 Car inspection

The vehicle must pass an extended registration inspection (customs inspection) at a vehicle inspection centre. A list of approved vehicle inspection centres is available from the Danish Transport Authority (Danish: Færdselsstyrelsen) on www.fstyr.dk > Find synshal > search by postal code.

When you contact the vehicle inspection, please remember to ask for a valuation of the vehicle for the Danish Register of Motor Vehicles (Motorregisteret).

Step 3 Request a valuation

When the vehicle has passed the inspection, you must ask for a valuation of the vehicle in the Danish Register of Motor Vehicles (Motorregisteret) in the tax authorities self-service system E-tax (TastSelv). Please use www.skat.dk > English > Log on with your NemID

1. Click 'Motor' (Motor) – 'Motorregister' (Register of Motor Vehicles)
2. Select 'Registreringsafgift' (Registration tax) and then 'Anmod om værdifastsættelse' (Request a valuation)

3. Complete the request and click 'Godkend' (Accept).
4. You can see your receipt in your 'Meddelelsesarkiv' (message archive) in E-tax.

The E-tax system is only available in Danish, and therefore it is recommended that you have somebody to assist you with the Danish language.

Please state in your request if you are a newcomer to Denmark or if your vehicle has foreign number plates.

If you do not have a Danish CPR number (civil registration number) and NemID, you must send an email to motorekspedition@motorst.dk asking for a valuation of your vehicle.

The tax authorities will then assess the value of your vehicle and determine the registration tax to be paid. You will receive the valuation in E-tax under the heading 'Meddelelser fra Motorregistret' (Messages from the Register of Motor Vehicles) or by regular post.

If you want to know the registration tax in advance, you can calculate an approximate vehicle registration tax on www.skat.dk > English > write "Calculate registration tax" in the search field. Please note that the register and the calculator are in Danish, so it is recommended that you do the calculation together with someone who understands Danish. It is possible to request a binding ruling on the registration tax from the tax authorities.

Step 4 Pay registration tax

You can pay registration tax via online banking, in your bank or at one of the four vehicle registration offices in Høje Taastrup/Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense or Aalborg. The payment ID will be stated in the valuation

Step 5 Register your vehicle in the Register of motor vehicles and buy new number plates

When you have paid the registration tax, you can buy the number plate from one of the tax authorities' motor registry offices. The price of one set of number plates is 1,180 DKK + a fee of 200 DKK. You may also buy the number plate from an authorised number plate operator. The price of the number plate is the same, but the fee charged may vary from operator to operator. Remember to bring all relevant car papers e.g. car registration papers, insurance certificate etc.

For further information in English, go to www.skat.dk > English > shortcut – Motor vehicles.

Short term stay in Denmark

If you are staying in Denmark for a limited period of up to 185 days within a 12 month period, you have the option to apply for permission to drive a foreign registered vehicle during the stay in Denmark without paying the registration tax. You can find the application form at www.skat.dk > English > shortcut – Motor vehicles > Foreign vehicles > Staying in Denmark temporarily. Use form 21.059EN.

You must always bring the permission from the tax authorities and documentation for the duration of your stay (for example a copy of your employment contract) with you while driving.

If you are unsure of the duration of your stay in Denmark or your country of residence, you can apply for permission to drive a vehicle with foreign number plates in Denmark. Please note that you will be charged a fee of DKK 400 to process your application.

Submit the following information to the Danish Motor Vehicle Agency (Motorstyrelsen):

- Form 21.059
- A copy of the vehicle registration certificate
- An employment or student contract to document
- A receipt for having paid the processing fee of DKK 400

If your stay exceeds 185 days, the vehicle generally must be registered in Denmark (and you must pay registration tax) or the vehicle must be transported out of Denmark.

Special rules apply for cross-border workers – see chapter "Cross-Border workers".

Double domicile

If you reside both in Denmark and another country at the same time, it must be determined which residence can be regarded as your usual place of residence. Your usual place of residence is defined as the residence to which you have the strongest ties, e.g. the country where you are considered to be domiciled. If you are considered to have your strongest ties to your home country, you can drive in your foreign registered car in Denmark. You must apply for permission at the Tax authorities. You can find the application form at www.skat.dk > English > Motor vehicles > Bringing a vehicle with foreign number plates to Denmark > Applying for permission to drive your vehicle in Denmark without paying Danish registration tax (form 21.059EN). A fee of 400 DKK is charged for applying for the permission.

If you leave Denmark

If you leave Denmark, export your vehicle and deregister it from the Danish Register of Motor Vehicles. You may be entitled to a tax refund of part of the original registration tax. Processing time for vehicle valuation is approximately three weeks.

5 steps to exporting a vehicle

Step 1 Have your motor vehicle inspected

Step 2 Request a valuation

Step 3 Hand in number plates to a number plate operator or one of the vehicle registration offices in Høje Taastrup/Copenhagen, Aarhus, Odense or Aalborg

Step 4 Submit documentation to the Danish Motor Vehicle Agency

Step 5 The Danish Motor Vehicle Agency refunds your vehicle registration tax

You can find further information on www.skat.dk > English > Leaving Denmark > Leaving Denmark permanently > Deregistration of vehicles.

Driving Licence

If you establish normal residence in Denmark, you must in some cases exchange your foreign driving licence for a Danish driving licence.

Whether you must exchange your foreign driving licence and whether you must complete a driving test (consisting of a theoretical and a practical part) prior to the exchange, depends on the country/ constituent state which has issued your driving licence. Moreover, different rules apply as to how long you can wait until you must exchange your foreign driving licence for a Danish driving licence. Driving licences can be divided into three groups:

- Driving licences issued in an EU/EEA country
- Driving licences issued in a non-EU/EEA country
- Driving licences issued in other states

Driving licences issued in a Nordic or an EU/EEA country

An exchange is not required and you are allowed to drive the same types of vehicles in Denmark as you are according to your valid driving licence from the issuing country.

However, it is a condition that you must fulfil the age requirements which apply when issuing an equivalent Danish driving licence (certain exceptions apply to driving licences from EU and EEA countries).

If you want, you can apply for an exchange even if it is not required. You are not required to complete a driving test in connection with the exchange.

Driving licences issued in a non-EU/EEA country

If your driving license was issued in Australia, Brazil, Japan, Chinese Taipei (Taiwan), the Republic of Korea (South Korea), Russia, Switzerland, Ukraine, Singapore, USA, Canada, Chile, Isle of Man, Serbia, New Zealand, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Israel and Republic of North Macedonia you can drive with your foreign driving license for 90 days from the day you establish residence in Denmark.

90 days after you have established residence (CPR registration) in Denmark, you must exchange your foreign driving license for a Danish driving license if you wish to continue to drive your car in Denmark. You can exchange your driving licence without passing a theoretical and practical driving test.

In order to exchange your foreign driving license for a Danish driving license, you must additionally provide: a written declaration on honour stating that you have had and have used your driving license for category B driving (regular car) within the last two years, and also provide a written declaration on honour stating that you have not had your driving license revoked within the last five years and that your right to drive has not been restricted or made conditional in any way.

It is a condition that your foreign driving licence is valid. Moreover, the driving licence must be issued in the Latin alphabet or be accompanied by an official translation in Danish, English or French. You must also fulfil the age requirements which apply when issuing an equivalent Danish driving licence.

Driving licences issued in other states

If your driving licence has been issued by a country other than the countries mentioned above, you have the right to use your foreign driving licence for a maximum of 90 days after having established normal residence in Denmark.

However, this only applies if your foreign driving licence is valid and if the licence is issued in the Latin alphabet or is accompanied by an official translation in Danish, English or French.

You must also fulfil the age requirements which apply when issuing an equivalent Danish driving licence.

No later than 90 days after having established normal residence, you must exchange your foreign driving licence for a Danish driving licence if you still wish to drive in Denmark. To exchange your foreign driving licence for a Danish driving licence, you are requested to complete a driving test (consisting of a theoretical and a practical part).

Temporary stay in Denmark

If you do not have usual residence in Denmark, you may drive on your foreign driving licence in Denmark.

Usual residence means that you have personal or occupational ties to Denmark e.g. that you spend a minimum of 185 days in Denmark within one calendar year. Usual residence in Denmark is established from the date when you move to Denmark with a view to establishing usual residence in Denmark.

If you have exclusively occupational or educational ties to Denmark but personal ties to another country, you will be regarded as having usual residence in the country where you have personal ties if you regularly return to that country. In this case you do not need to exchange your driving licence.

Where to exchange your driving licence

Contact the Citizen Service Center (Danish: Borgerservice) where you live for further information and for exchange of your foreign licence.

You must bring:

- A passport photo

- Residence documents
 - Your current driving licence
 - Your passport/national ID card
- Additional documentation from holders of non-EU/EEA driving licences:

- A medical certificate issued by your doctor
- A written declaration on honour that your driving licence has not been revoked within the last five years and also that your right to drive has not been restricted or made conditional in any way
- A declaration on honour stating that you have actively used your driving licence for category B driving within the last two years

The exchange fee is 280 DKK (2022)

Domestic Transportation

Public transportation – rail/bus

Buses and trains travel hourly between Denmark's major cities. If you plan to use public transportation in Denmark, you can find information on Rejseplanen App and on the website www.rejseplanen.dk. Available in English and German.

Private transportation

A number of private companies offer intercity and international bus connections.

Air: With connecting flights, you can travel from Copenhagen to Aarhus, Aalborg, Billund, Sønderborg, Karup and Bornholm.

Legal Assistance

Citizen's advice office

At the local citizen's advice office (Danish: advokatvagten) in your Danish municipality, you can get information and guidance about legal problems, such as tax errors, housing, contracts, etc. The information/guidance is free of charge. You must visit the office personally. The local citizen's advice office will primarily be able to help you to precisely identify the legal problem and will provide you with advice about further steps you can take (possible points of contact, etc.). You can find the addresses and opening times for your local citizen's advice office at the website www.advokatvagterne.dk > Listen over advokatvagter

Traffic Regulations

Vehicles on motorways – 130 km/h (however, only 110 near cities); rural roads – 80 km/h, and in built-up arreas – 50 km/h. Cars with trailers: 80 km/h on rural roads and on highways (100 km/h if you have a Tempo 100 permit).

The blood alcohol limit is 0.5 per mille.

Cars and motorcycles must have their dipped headlights on at all times when on the road. Motorcycle riders must wear a helmet. White triangles painted on the road surface mean give way (yield). The Storebælt and Øresund bridges are toll bridges.

You must bring your driving license when driving a vehicle.

Money

The Danish krone (DKK) consists of 100 øre. The following coins are in circulation: 50 øre, 1 krone, 2 kroner, 5, 10 and 20 kroner. Bank notes are available in denominations of 50, 100, 200, 500 and 1000 kroner. The rate of exchange is approximately 7,45 kroner to one euro (7,45 DKK = 1 €). Most shops, hotels and restaurants accept international credit cards.

Find more information in the the section regarding "Banks and bank account".

Diplomatic Representations

You can find an overview of all foreign representations (embassies and consulates) in Denmark at: www.um.dk > English > About us > The Protocol Department > The Copenhagen Diplomatic List

Passport/national ID card

Your foreign passport/national ID card is fully valid in Denmark. If you live in Denmark and need a new passport/national ID card, contact the representation of your home country (embassy or consulate) in Denmark. You can find information regarding opening times, addresses, the documentation required, etc. on the websites of each respective representation.

Elections and Voting Rights

The Danish electoral system

In Denmark we have a representative democracy. This means that at elections citizens choose the representatives to parliament and municipal and regional councils whom they want to make decisions on their behalf.

General elections

According to the constitution, general elections to the national parliament must be held at least once every four years, since a given parliament may not be in power for more than four years. Elections are called by the prime minister.

The parliament's 179 elected members are divided into parties. Only rarely is there a candidate without a party – a so-called independent.

When it comes to voting, you can either vote for a party or a specific person.

Municipal/Regional elections

In Denmark there is local self-government, meaning that municipalities and regions have self-determination over a number of areas. The municipal elections are an umbrella term for elections to municipal and regional councils.

These elections are held every four years, always on the third Tuesday of November.

EU parliamentary elections

Since Denmark is a member of the European Union, the Danes also elect their own candidates for the EU parliament. 14 Danish representatives are elected to the EU parliament. Elections are held every five years.

Voting rights

Local elections (Danish: kommunalvalg): EU citizens and citizens of the Nordic countries have active and passive electoral rights in local elections in Denmark. This means that EU citizens can both vote and stand for election.

Non-EU citizens are awarded active and passive electoral rights for the local elections once they have been living in Denmark for four years.

Regional elections (Danish: regionsrådsvalg)

EU citizens and citizens from the Nordic countries have active and passive electoral rights in regional elections in Denmark. Non-EU citizens are awarded active and passive electoral rights once they have been living in Denmark for four years.

European Parliament election:

All EU citizens have active and passive electoral rights for the European Parliament election.

Parliamentary election

(Danish: folketingsvalg): Only Danish citizens have the right to vote in the parliamentary election in Denmark.

Parliamentary election in your home country:

Even if you are living in Denmark, you will generally retain your right to vote in parliamentary elections in your own country. If there are forthcoming parliamentary elections in your home country, please contact your country's embassy. They will be able to provide you with details regarding your participation in the elections.

Local Libraries

Use your local library as a gateway to your local community. Apart from the classical services of lending out books, music and films, the Danish libraries offer an array of free events and services that will help you and/or your family getting settled in your local community. Make use of individual counselling from librarians who can provide you with information on children's events, evening classes, overview on spare time activities for adults and children, cultural events etc. Through most libraries you can also gain online access to more than 1700 international newspapers (Library Press Display). Should you miss anything, you can order any material (from abroad as well) to pick up for free at your local library.

Find your nearest library here:
www.bibliotek.dk > Menu > English

Voluntary work

Find vacancies (voluntary work) on www.frivilligjob.dk > English flag. Search by e.g. organisation, job title, geography and work area. Voluntary work is highly appreciated by employers and offers personal network and Danish language training.

Company search

Many Danish companies have a menu heading on their website (jobs, career or similar) where you can submit applications for specific vacancies as well as CV databases where you can register. The majority of the vacancies are published in Danish, although some are also in English. If you know the company name or hear about a company – take a look on the company website and send your CV and application.

Unsolicited applications

A common way to approach a Danish employer you would like to work for, is to send an unsolicited application. Most employers appreciate the interest and are willing to consider your application and skills if they are relevant.

Social media and personal network

In Denmark many jobs are never posted publicly. A lot of hiring takes place via personal and social networks, and it is therefore always a good idea to ask around for potential job openings. LinkedIn is commonly used as a recruitment tool for many Danish companies.

Start with your personal network. You may have friends, colleagues or acquaintances with contacts in Denmark who can pave the way for a job interview.

Another idea is to make use of expatriate networks, or contact relevant organisations or even workplaces for good advice.

Start your own business in Denmark

Denmark has made it easy for entrepreneurial expats to set up their own business. The start-up process is a streamlined process with just a few simple procedures needed to start a new business – with minimal costs involved.

In addition to the simplicity of the steps needed to start up a business, Denmark also has a number of government backed schemes and courses, run by individual municipalities and more centralised organisations, to assist foreigners in the process, information. You can find further information on www.danishbusinessauthority.dk > business-denmark.

Graduates

Students from abroad who have completed a graduate programme in Denmark of at least 18 months in duration can join a Danish unemployment insurance fund if:

- You had a permanent address in Denmark no later than one day before the start of your education

- You are in Denmark no later than 14 days (including weekends) after you end your education, e.g. you must apply for membership within two weeks (14 days) of completing your education

Membership of an unemployment insurance fund is a precondition for receiving unemployment benefits.

EU citizens will be entitled to unemployment benefits after the same rules as Danish citizens.

Non-EU citizens must hold a valid Danish work and residence permit or a permanent residence permit in order to receive unemployment benefits – more information below.

If you comply with the above mentioned preconditions and want to stay in Denmark as a jobseeker with unemployment benefits, it is important to remember to:

1. Register yourself as unemployed on “Jobnet” – online or in person at the Jobcenter on the first day after your graduation – www.jobnet.dk. You will need your NemID to sign up.
2. Upload your CV on www.jobnet.dk no later than two weeks after your first day of unemployment. You must continuously record your job search in the job log on Jobnet and keep contact to the Jobcenter
3. Send your admission form to an unemployment insurance fund no later than 14 days after you completed your Danish education
3. Apply for a tax card (if you do not have one already) on www.skat.dk > English > Short guide: Working in Denmark > Apply for a tax card
4. Check your work and residence status on www.newtodenmark.dk

LEAVING DENMARK

CHECKLIST – WHAT SHOULD I DO WHEN I LEAVE DENMARK?

When leaving Denmark there are a few important issues to be aware of as foreign citizen. In the following checklist we have listed matters of particular importance.

Deregister yourself from the Danish National Register of Persons (CPR register)

Before you leave Denmark you must deregister yourself online as a resident in Denmark. Please use www.lifeindenmark.dk > Leaving Denmark > Practical matters before leaving > Notification of change of address to the national registration office – click Start NemID solution > Log in with your NemID > Notification of leaving the country and fill in the online form.

Post

Inform PostNord about your future address and the date you leave, and get your mail redirected to your new address abroad for 6 months – free of charge. Use www.lifeindenmark.dk > Leaving Denmark – Practical matters before leaving > click on PostNord – you can have your mail... > Form – have your mail forwarded... > “Flytning (Særlige adresseændringer)” > “Udlands adresseændring” – fill in the form and upload a copy of your passport, driver’s license or other ID and fill in your details > Send.

Unemployment insurance

You may need the form PD U1 to confirm your employment and unemployment insurance periods in Denmark. You can find the application form EEA 4.1 on www.star.dk > English > EEA unemployment benefits > Transferring periods of employment and unemployment insurance between EEA countries.

If you have been a member of a Danish unemployment insurance fund (a-kasse), please send the application form to this fund – if not, please send it to the Danish Agency for Labour Market and Recruitment, Vermundsgade 38, 2100 Copenhagen Ø. Telephone +45 72 14 20 01, email star@star.dk

Tax

You have to notify SKAT when you leave Denmark permanently in order to determine your tax liability.

The tax authorities recommend that you call the Danish Tax Agency (Skattestyrelsen) on +45 72 22 28 92 after you have left Denmark and deregistered from the Danish National Register (Folkeregisteret).

If possible, the tax authorities will determine your tax liability instantly and let you know which documents you need to submit in connection with leaving Denmark.

Further information and the form can be found on www.skat.dk > English > Leaving Denmark permanently.

If you change address in the country that you move to, please notify the tax authorities so that they know where to send any documents related to your tax situation.

Holiday allowance

When you are no longer registered in the Civil Registration System (CPR), no longer work for a Danish employer and do not receive public benefits from Denmark, you can have all your holiday pay disbursed, even if you do not take holiday.

You must apply to have your holiday pay disbursed within six months of your last day of work for your Danish employer at the latest.

Claim your holiday allowance here: www.lifeindenmark.dk > Leaving Denmark > Practical matters before leaving > Holiday allowance > Holiday allowance if you leave Denmark > Claim your holiday allowance > click START

Insurances in Denmark

Inform your insurance company that you are leaving Denmark.

Bank

Inform your bank that you are leaving Denmark. It may be convenient to keep a Danish account for e.g. the last salary payment, tax refunds etc.

E104

Some EU/EEA countries require documentation that you have been covered by health insurance in Denmark via form E104. The form is issued by Udbetaling Danmark, International Sygesikring. If you need it please contact Udbetaling Danmark – telephone +45 70 12 80 81

Pensions

You can have your private pension paid out abroad if you do not live in Denmark any longer. Please contact your pension company, your pension fund or your financial institution if you want to learn more about your individual pensions.

You cannot have your ATP Livslang Pension paid out if you leave Denmark. Each month you have been working in Denmark you have contributed to your ATP pension scheme. The ATP contributions will be paid out from the day you are entitled to old age pension after Danish law and for the rest of your life – no matter what age you eventually reach. Find further information about ATP Livslang Pension when you leave Denmark at www.lifeindenmark.dk > Living in Denmark > Pension > ATP Livslang Pension. This is especially relevant if you are retiring outside of Denmark or if you have worked in or/and are going to work in a third country.

Miscellaneous

Deregister your vehicle from the Danish Register of Motor Vehicles, cancel membership of clubs, associations, subscriptions e.g. mobile phone and newspaper, etc. You may be entitled to payment refund.

Accident & Emergency (ambulance)

In the event of accident or life threatening situations, call 112.

General practitioners

If you get ill and need medical assistance call your general practitioners. GPs are open 08.00 to 16.00 Monday to Friday. The GP will refer you to Accident & Emergency if necessary.

You find your GP's name, address and telephone number on your yellow health card.

After hours medical assistance

If you are in doubt call the Capital Region help line – dial +45 1813 (open 24 hours). The +45 1813 help line is staffed with specially trained nurses, who will be able to tell you at once what to do next: whether to contact your doctor (GP) or go to your local emergency department or in urgent care clinic. In case of the latter, you will also be told the address of the clinic with the shortest wait.

The help line is staffed round the clock, 365 days a year.

Emergency room

In the event of injury, involving e.g. broken bones or severe bleeding, and need to be treated at Accident & Emergency, you must first contact a doctor. During the daytime you should call a GP. After 16.00, at weekends and on public holidays, call help line +45 1813. The doctor will refer you to Accident & Emergency if necessary.

FIND YOUR NEXT EMPLOYEE ABROAD

Is your company having difficulties finding an employee with the right skill set in Denmark? Workindenmark can help you find qualified candidates abroad – and give them a good start in Denmark.

For some companies, recruiting international staff has become common practice. For others, it's new ground. Workindenmark is here to help.

Workindenmark has extensive experience in helping companies of all sizes finding the right match.

Drawing on our pool of highly skilled international candidates, we can connect you with the people that have the right kind of qualifications and could fit right in with your company.

We focus on attracting and recruiting highly skilled candidates from abroad and match more than 6.000 international candidates with Danish companies each year.

Workindenmark offers to:

- Make your vacancies visible to international candidates
- Attract suitable international candidates
- Provide relevant information on international recruitment at www.workindenmark.dk
- Assist in the recruitment process

WORKINDENMARK CAN GET YOU OFF TO A GOOD START

Workindenmark can help you recruit skilled and highly qualified international staff.

Workindenmark is a professional public service available to any Danish company that needs help finding skilled employees from abroad. We operate under the Danish Ministry of Employment and are a member of European Employment Service (EURES). Our office is located in Odense but our services extend nationwide.

Through our membership of EURES we have access to the European Job Mobility Portal governed by the European Commission with CVs from more than 800.000 international jobseekers.

By utilising the tools and guidance provided by us, you get the opportunity to expand your talent pool. We can assist you in making your vacancies visible to international candidates. We can attract suitable candidates and help you in the recruitment process. We can advertise your vacancies at job fairs, as well as use social media to attract qualified candidates.

Furthermore, we also offer you extensive information on important aspects when wanting to hire an international employee such as which pitfalls to be aware of, where to find relevant information about residence- and work permit, where to find information about relevant taxation rules and much more.

Finally, we also offer extensive information for your new international employee. We provide information about both practical matters and social matters. Practical matters include information about how to become a citizen; what to apply for and when. Social matters include how to settle in to good life in Denmark.

PROFESSIONAL AND EFFICIENT SERVICE

Workindenmark offers international jobseekers the following services:

We offer international jobseekers easy access to a large pool of English speaking jobs in all of Denmark and we offer information and guidance on job search and settlement in Denmark:

- Access to a large pool of job vacancies in English (www.workindenmark.dk)
- Access to Workindenmark specialists - telephone hotline, mail and chat
- A free e-learning course in four modules about job search in Denmark.
- Job search tutorials with tips on how to write a CV, a cover letter, and how to decide if you should call a company before applying for a job.
- Tips and tricks for jobseekers, e.g. the unwritten rules of a job interview, expat stories, tips for applying unsolicited and much more.
- A free of charge webinar covering topics about what it is like to live and work in Denmark, information about the Danish labour market, and of course focus on job possibilities in Denmark
- General information about residence and work permits, registration certificates, civil registration number (CPR-number), health insurance card, authorization of foreign qualifications, tax, etc.
- The publication "Welcome to Denmark" with relevant and practical information about living and working in Denmark.
- Information about EU Financial Support Scheme, Targeted Mobility Scheme (TMS), which enables residents and citizens from EU, Norway or Iceland to apply for financial support for job interviews or relocation to another EU country, Norway or Iceland.

WORKINDENMARK IS PART OF EURES (EUROPEAN EMPLOYMENT SERVICE)

Workindenmark is part of EURES

EURES is an organized network of public employment services and other partner organizations in the EU/EEA countries, offering recruitment services, information, guidance and advice to mobile workers about job opportunities, as well as living and working conditions in the European Economic Area.
